BENTLEY STILL LISTED AS CRITICAL

SEIZED AFTER THEY SHOT CONGRESSMEN. Capitol police round up two men and a woman just after they fired from the spectators' gallery of the House of Representatives and wounded five congressmen. Police said all three of the assailants fired simultaneously with German lugers, as the woman screamed 'I want freedom for Puerto Rico" Secret Service agents rushed into action to protect President Eisenhower. The shooting recalled the attempt on ex-President Truman's life by two Puerto Ricans in 1950

4 Puerto Rican Fanatics in Jail After Shooting

WASHINGTON (AP) — One congressman was in serious condition today and four of his colleagues nursed bullet wounds inflicted by a quartet of Puerto Rican fanatics yesterday in the chamber of the House of Representatives

Most seriously wounded in the incident, without precedent so far as congressional records showed, was Rep Alvin M Bentley R-Mich , 35 A bullet struck him in the upper right chest, traveled through the lung diaphragm, liver and stomach and came out his left side Casualty Hospital reported he would remain in critical condition for 72 hours

Rep Bentley showed some gains early today, however, it was reported at the hospital

Dr Charles White, who assisted in a 1½-hour operation on Bentley last night, said the first-term congressman had a "50-50 chance" to live

Mrs Bentley, an expectant mother, said her husband talked coherently

Rep Kenneth A Roberts D Ala , 41 also underwent surgery but of an exploratory nature Dr J Ross Veal, the surgeon said there was no damage to his knee nerves as had been feared He said the congressman would be hospitalized two weeks or more

The other three less seriously wounded were Representatives Ben F Jensen R-Iowa 61 hit in the left shoulder Clifford Davis D-Tenn , 56, hit in the right leg, and George H Fallon D-Md , 51, struck in the hip

All were felled by bullets frenziedly fired from automatic pistols in the hands of three men and a woman who rose dramatically during a routine House session, waved a Puerto Rican flag and sprayed shots wildly through the chamber 'to attract attention to their cause "

Their professed cause "the independence of Puerto Rico '

They are members of the Puerto Rican Nationalists the same group which included as members the two men who tried to shoot their way into Blair House in November 1950 and assassinate former President Truman

The woman and two men were disarmed and taken into custody in a riotous scene just outside the House visitors' gallery The third man was arrested later at a bus terminal

Bentley was struck in the upper right chest by a bullet which traveled through the lung diaphragm liver and stomach and came out his left side

'He is now in the hands of the Lord ' said the surgeon Dr Charles Stanley White, after the operation

At 6 a m EST today however Dr Joseph R Young chief of staff at Casualty Hospital said the 35-year-old congressman, while still in critical condition, had shown improvement, was cheerful and able to talk coherently

Additional pictures on the shooting of five congressmen are on Page 5.

'Shocked, Ashamed at Cynical Cruelty,' Says Auditor Following Visit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A Rhodes today reported finding five teen-aged inmates locked in correctional cells called the 'hole' at the Girls Industrial School near Delaware

The Republican candidate for governor called them "Ohio's lost children "

Rhodes said he made the discovery during a check of a complaint in which Lt. Gov John W Brown termed the cells 'inhuman and barbaric treatment" of girl inmates Brown is a former State Highway Patrolman.

Rhodes yesterday made public shortages in the accounts of the institution and said officials reported that funds had not been balanced for years

Expanding his audit with a personal visit Rhodes said in a prepared statement

'These young impressionable girls languish in solitary confinement for minor misdeeds

"As the father of three young daughters, I am shocked and ashamed at the cynical cruelty being shown in disciplining Ohio's children at the Girls Industrial School

"I had not dreamed that young girls of 13 years could be treated so pitilessly. They are being disciplined like hardened criminals for no more of an offense than

Tentative Proposal

Bus Firm Presents Local Service Plan

A tentative proposal for bringing a new bus company to Marion was made to city officials and councilmen by Rolland E St Johns of Dayton at a meeting held in city hall Monday night

Describing his company's operations in other cities he told those attending he has not yet had time to study Marion's needs completely and could make no definite commitments

Proposal in 10 Days

What he did promise was to make some positive proposal within a week to 10 days Operator of both a large suburban and a small city bus company in Dayton as well as two other Ohio cities and in other states St Johns company was the first to seek the Marion franchise since the Marion Transit Co. quit business last Wednesday

In his tentative proposition St John said

If his company does decide to ask for and is granted the right to operate a bus company in Marion, he would want a 90-day franchise with an provision for a 90 day extension and an option to pick up the franchise for a longer term after that time

Probable schedules would be from about 5 30 a m until 7 p m on week days and until 10 p m on Friday nights There would be no Sunday or holiday service Bus runs would be made every half-hour

Same Routes

Routes would be essentially the same as those previously used or might be changed to accomodate those residents most wanting and using the bus service Some routes might be curtailed or eliminated completely if too few riders use them

Fare structure would likely remain unchanged

Equipment used at first possibly would consist of charter type intra-city buses but would be replaced later with late model inter city type buses Charter types have one door at front with reclining seats, inter city buses have rigid seats and doors at front and near the rear

Probable number of buses to be used would be eight

St Johns cautioned that these were all tentative proposals but indicated he is interested in providing bus service in Marion if he can get some return 'say 5 to 10 per cent' on his investment.

From figures given him by Floyd Kreisel president of the now defunct Marion Transit Co , and from surveys made by himself and two associates, St Johns estimated a daily loss of about $25 for something like six months

However he feels Marion needs and can support a bus company, because lack of such service, in his opinion, lowers property valuation in any city between 10 and

Corporate Tax Cuts Expected To Be Delayed

52 Per Cent Rate Is Retained in Surprise Move by Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Republican members predicted the House Ways and Means Committee would act today to cancel two billion dollars in scheduled corporation income tax cuts

They said this recommendation would be added in a surprise maneuver, to an 800 page bill generally overhauling the entire tax structure

The top corporation income tax rate now 52 per cent is scheduled to drop automatically to 47 per cent April 1 President Eisenhower has urged a one year extension of the present rate to help reduce the federal deficit

At one time the President's proposal had stirred strong opposition including promises of a fight by Rep Daniel A Reed (R NY) Ways and Means chairman Also there was widespread talk of a compromise at a 50 per cent corporation income tax rate

Committee members said much of the opposition has melted however, because of other tax cuts in

Betts Dashes for Door

Flying Bullets Zing Past Congressmen From Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep Schneck (R Ohio) was standing up ready to introduce a bill yesterday when Puerto Rican Nationalists started shooting wounding five congressmen on the House floor

When the shooting stopped, he said, he was still standing—and even heading toward the front of the chamber to toss his bill in the hopper

'I thought they were Chinese firecrackers going off,' he explained

Rep McGregor (R-Ohio) said it all happened so fast 'I just sat there watching this woman shooting '

Only after the bullets stopped flying did he realize what had happened, he said The woman seemed to be firing at the ceiling, he added

Seated with McGregor—in the tier just behind where Rep Bentley (R-Mich) one of the wounded congressmen, was sitting—were Reps McCulloch (R-Ohio) and Betts (R-Ohio)

Betts said he managed to dash for the door of the chambers when the firing was about stopped

'But don t take my word for what happened ' he said 'I guess I m not too cool under fire "

McCulloch said he managed to

McLeod Curb Is Criticized by Sen. McCarthy

Official Explanation From Dulles on Move Requested by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today he will demand an official explanation of Secretary of State Dulles' order stripping R W Scott McLeod of authority over State Department personnel

The department announced yesterday that McLeod a close personal friend of McCarthy s, will have charge only of security and consular matters from now on He has been handling both security and personnel for the department and recently stated he regards these as "inseparable functions " As personnel officer, he had hiring and firing powers

McCarthy's Comment

Learning of the order, McCarthy told newsmen, "This will make it infinitely more difficult for McLeod to do a good job" of ridding the department of subversives He also said the new order "just doesn t look good on the surface "

McCarthy injected himself into the McLeod situation as he waited for the appearance of Secretary of the Army Robert T Stevens either Thursday or next Monday at what probably will be a hearing closed to television, radio, press and public

Denied Surrender

The Wisconsin senator and the Army secretary waged open warfare until last week over McCarthy s handling of Army witnesses in his probe of alleged Communist 'coddling by the Army They made a 'peace pact' which averted a nationally televised showdown

But that pact—a 'memorandum of understanding"—was widely regarded as a Stevens surrender to McCarthy. Stevens stoutly denied this and after White House conferences, he issued a statement in which he asserted he never would accede to browbeating of Army witnesses by congressional committees or anyone else He said he

Letters of Love Called 'Drivel' By Sternbaum

Correspondence With Secretary Reviewed From Witness Stand

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Max Sternbaum took the stand today in his first degree murder trial and described a happy home life a struggle to build a successful business and referred to letters he wrote to Miss Margaret Rozenman as 'drivel '

The 35-year-old supermarket executive answered questions about the death of his wife Leah, 31, the night of Dec 3 1952

The state claims Sternbaum clubbed his wife to death, then set fire to his supermarket office The state claims Sternbaum killed his wife so he would be free to marry Miss Rozenman, a former Columbus secretary.

Sternbaum has repeated his story of burglars attacking him that night about the same time his wife drove to the office to pick him up

The first question Sternbaum's attorney Paul M Herbert, asked was 'Did you kill your wife?"

16 Freight Cars Derailed at Caledonia

Both East and West Tracks Blocked; No One Hurt

Sixteen cars of a westbound freight train were derailed yesterday at 4 40 p m in Caledonia and Erie railroad officials expect the westbound track to remain closed until late today. No one was injured

The derailment blocked both tracks about a mile west of the center of Caledonia and tore up a section of track Repair crews worked though the night clearing the eastbound track

Both east and westbound trains are using the eastbound track until normal service is resumed

Although the exact cause of the derailment has not been determined there was no track failure Erie officials said Observers at the wreck scene said a burned-out hot box appeared to be the cause

No estimate of the damage will be made until contents of the derailed cars are examined Twelve of the derailed cars were loaded and carried anthracite coal crude rubber, rope, paper and steel beams

Cars 101 through 117 of the 123-car train left the track and scattered across both tracks Derricks are being used to hoist the cars off the track. Repair crews, wading through heavy snow drifts, worked last night with light from truck headlights make-shift extensions and the train wrecker

The freight, a through train from Jersey City was bound for Chicago It was to be reassembled in Marion.

RAILROAD MEN SURVEY TRAIN DERAILMENT. Repair work began Monday night soon after 16 cars of a westbound Erie freight train left the track in Caledonia, blocking both east and westbound tracks. The tanker-type car (left) was completely overturned and other cars were crisscrossed over both tracks No one was injured

Detailed Report About Security Firings Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic senators have served notice they want from Chairman Philip Young of the Civil Service Commission more details about government "security risk" firings on which he released a long-sought breakdown last night

He sent to Congress a report stating that out of 1 782 security separations by the Eisenhower administration between May 28 and Dec. 31 of last year, 355 involved persons with subversive information in their files

He was called to testify today at a public session of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee Its Democratic members have demanded an investigation of what they contend is misleading information put out by some Republicans about the employes involved

President Eisenhower has said his administration got rid of 2,200 security risks in its first year in office

Young said yesterday his 1,782 total did not include 442 separations in the Defense Department, on which details would be submitted later That apparently accounted for the discrepancy be-

Seating of Jury Slow in Wable Murder Trial

Accused Pennsylvania Turnpike Slayer Has Denied Pulling Trigger

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The defense and state agreed on three jurors—two housewives and a retired coal miner—in opening day proceedings of the murder trial of John Wesley Wable, accused Pennsylvania Turnpike slayer.

Selection of a jury began yesterday after Judge Edward Bauer rejected a motion to postpone the trial of the 24-year-old Ohiopyle, Pa., man.

The jurors were picked at the rate of one every two hours with some 40-veniremen being rejected, many because they said they did not favor capital punishment.

State Police say Wable signed a statement implicating himself in the fatal shootings of Harry F. Pitts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va., and Lester B. Woodward, 39, of Duncannon, Pa. But they say he denied pulling the trigger.

The two victims were found within three days of each other last July. Each had been shot in the head as he slept in the cab of his parked truck.

The state is trying Wable only for the slaying of Pitts. That means he can be tried later for the murder of Woodward.

Wable made a formal plea of innocent after the charges were read to him yesterday.

Sternbaum

Sternbaum replied "No."

"Did you love your wife?"

Sternbaum replied "Yes."

Sternbaum described his love as based on substantial and solid things like his three children, his home and business. He also denied he had discussed divorce with his family attorney or ever mentioned it in letters to Miss Rozenman.

Gave Wife Car

He told the court the day of his wife's death he had given her a new car as a belated birthday present. The same night he had repaid a $1,000 loan to his father-in-law, Lewis Mandel of Willard, he testified. That loan helped start his successful business, he said.

He described his wife as "petite, attractive and well-groomed."

"She lacked for nothing," he said.

When Herbert asked if his letters to Miss Rozenman were endearing Sternbaum replied:

"Yes, like I'd address your wife after knowing her six months.'

He said the greatest dissent between him and his wife was an argument over her staying with the children more. But, he said, she wanted to help him with his business.

The first witness called by the defense, Dr. Philmour Bein of Mansfield, testified Sternbaum's wound received the night of Dec. 3, 1952, could not have been self-inflicted. Sternbaum had received a gash across the back of his head.

Identifies Gloves

Today Sternbaum also identified a pair of gloves found in the clothing of a burglar who killed himself here the night of Dec. 6, 1952, as his own.

"I am confident those are my gloves," he said.

The burglar, court testimony revealed, killed himself when trapped in a Mansfield laundry. He was Lewis Morris of Lexington, Ohio.

Snow Paints Fairyland Scene in City

IT LOOKS LIKE CHRISTMAS-TIME AGAIN. Central Christian Church, 421 Mt. Vernon Ave., is almost hidden under the five-inch snowfall which covered Marion yesterday. The snow, too, looked beautiful to rural school children, for many of them got an extra holiday when county schools closed because roads were blocked by drifts. Seven county schools were closed today, with several of those which started classes yesterday morning dismissing later in the day and remained closed today. No classes were held today at Caledonia, Claridon, Meeker, Morral, Prospect, Martel and Waldo. In session were Pleasant, Green Camp, Grand Prairie, LaRue and New Bloomington.

Bus Firm

15 per cent. Bus service is also needed to entice new industry to a city, he said.

Describes Company

In telling about his company, he said it operates on schedule in all cities it serves, that its buses — some 400 of them — are cleaned daily both inside and out and that all equipment is modern and kept in good repair.

He pointed out the company now operates in Lima and Findlay in Ohio and is also dealing with the city of Elkhart, Ind. for start of a company there. Elkhart has a population of 35,000, about the same as Marion's.

The company also operated in Elyria until recently but discontinued there because of "lack of cooperation of merchants, city officials, and antagonism of the police department," he said.

He described two alternatives to operation of bus service by a private company. One would be for the city to operate a line or the city or merchants could subsidize a private company on a lease basis.

Councilman-at-large Robert G. Haldeman, chairman of the utilities committee, said he felt sure Marion would not be interested in subsidizing a bus company.

Want Service Here

He added that the committee and other councilmen and city officials would like to see a bus company operating in Marion and are willing to listen to any and all concrete propositions.

Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward, said he felt any company could feel confident of success in Marion if it provided good, clean, on-time service, and "sold" the public on riding buses.

The meeting was dismissed by Haldeman on promise of St. Johns to make a definite proposition within 10 days. Haldeman warned that in the meantime meetings may be held with other interested parties to obtain their proposition. Council will consider all of them before granting a franchise, he added. St. Johns indicated he was completely in agreement with this policy.

Following the meeting, Mayor Harold F. Robinson said he had heard a Springfield company was interested, along with the National City Lines of Chicago and one or two local men. He indicated another meeting may be called in a day or two with other interested companies.

Others attending the meeting were Councilmen Herman Rinehart and Harold Smith, and City Solicitor George A. Piacentino. Accompanying St. Johns were Olin Wichael, his associate, and J. M. Duncan, a company schedule, routing, and cost analyst.

Bullets

hit the floor after the second burst started.

Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) was attending a meeting outside of the House chambers.

"It sounded like some one dragging a load of steel over the floor," said Bolton.

Rep. John M. Vorys of Columbus said "I was in my seat two rows directly behind Charlie Halleck's table (Republican Floor Leader Halleck of Indiana) when the thing started."

"At first I thought someone was shooting firecrackers," he said, "and I heard a woman's voice in Spanish. Then I thought I saw three men and a woman with guns up in the tourists' (visitors') gallery. The first shots were fired toward the ceiling . . . I saw the girl throw a flag. They said it was a Puerto Rican flag."

Vorys said one of the bullets struck the top of the table at which Rep. Halleck was standing, showering him with splinters.

Governor Orders Probe Into Truck Unloading Racket

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche has ordered the State Highway Patrol to investigate a so-called truck unloading racket in several major Ohio cities.

Lausche said yesterday he had reports truckers delivering food and other products were forced to hire special men for unloading at an average charge of $14 a load.

Trucks are stopped and their normal drivers and workers warned not to unload the merchandise, the governor said. In his order to highway Patrol Supt. George Mingle, Lausche said:

"In one city there are seven roving automobiles moving about with the purpose of procuring compliance with the exactions being made.

"The report is that these men who are hired under compulsion in some instances are able to unload two or three trucks and thus in one day be paid the equivalent of three full days' wages."

He did not name the cities but reports said the complaints involved Cleveland, Toledo, Akron, Dayton and Cincinnati.

Tax Cuts

effect or planned this year, notably business benefits provided in the general tax revision measure. If approved by the House and Senate, it would reduce revenues from individuals and business by about $1,300,000,000 the first year and more later, chiefly through more liberal deductions.

Previously Ruled Out

Previously, Republican committee members had ruled out any effort to deal with major tax rates in the revision bill. The evident decision to shift tactics came at a private caucus late yesterday, after a series of meetings involving Republican congressional leaders, President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Teroasury Humphrey.

GOP members said the new plan would:

1. Help counter a Democratic argument that the revision bill is heavily loaded in favor of business benefits.

2. Clear the air for separate handling of another bill dealing only with excise tax rates. Originally it had been planned to put the corporate and excise rates into a single package.

Reed was said to be planning to introduce soon a bill backed by GOP House leaders which would cut all excise rates above 10 per cent down to that level, except for liquor and tobacco.

Movies, Telephone Cut

This would bring substantial reductions in taxes on movie and other admissions, telephone and telegraph bills, passenger fares, jewelry, women's handbags, furs, cosmetics, luggage, sporting goods and other items.

Plans call for it to provide also for cancellation of reductions scheduled April 1 on other goods—liquor, automobiles, gasoline, tobacco, beer and wine.

In all this maneuvering, Republicans are hoping to build up strength to try to defeat a Democratic move to write into the revision bill an increase from $600 to $700 in individual income tax exemptions. This would cut income taxes by 2½ billion dollars a year.

The exemption increase is strongly opposed by the administration.

got assurances of future good treatment for them during the "peace conference." But McCarthy called this Stevens statement "completely false."

The matter rested pretty much at that point until yesterday when McCarthy's subcommittee questioned Pvt. David Linfield and former Pvt. Sid Rubenstein, both of New York.

Linfield, McCarthy said after the closed hearing, refused to answer questions on communism. The Senate investigations subcommittee voted to cite him for contempt.

Rubenstein, according to McCarthy, testified he broke with the Communist party about six or seven years ago and has been given a second-grade honorable discharge. The senators said Rubenstein was a willingly cooperative witness.

Original Dispute

McCarthy and Stevens tangled originally in an outgrowth of the senator's attempts to find out why Maj. Irving Peress, now a practicing New York dentist, was honorably discharged after he had claimed Fifth Amendment protection against self-incrimination. He did so in appearances before McCarthy's group.

The Wisconsin senator said he wants Stevens to explain the Army's "three ways" of handling alleged Communists—that is, the honorable discharge given Peress, the retention of Linfield in service, and the second-grade discharge handed Rubenstein.

The McLeod order prompted Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) to propose in an interview that Secretary Dulles be called before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to explain McLeod's "activities" as department security officer.

McLeod recently aroused Democratic ire by making a series of five Lincoln Day speeches for the Republican National Committee. Some Democrats contended that a man in McLeod's position should not take part in politics.

McLeod refused comment on the new turn of events, but it was believed he would not quit his $15,000-a-year-post.

Dulles put Edward T. Wailes, assistant secretary for administration, at the head of personnel affairs.

Ohio Trucker Killed In Pennsylvania Crash

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—State Police reported today a 32-year-old truck driver was burned to death when his vehicle rammed the rear of another truck on Rt. 222, 2½ miles west of Allentown.

The victim was identified by police as Walter Meese, 28, of 502 Fair Ave., New Philadelphia, Ohio. They said his truck struck the rear of a truck operated by Leo Michaels, 32, of Wescoesville and burst into flames.

Meese was trapped in the cab, police reported, and burned to death.

Underwater Whale Kill Being Planned by Diver

NOME, Alaska (UP)—An underwater whale hunt in the treacherous Bering Sea is planned for next summer by Ted Warren, a Redondo Beach Calif., skin-diver.

Warren said he will dive into the sea wearing a snorkel breathing device, a face mask with goggles and a pair of swim fins. He will be armed with a spear gun four-feet long. The gun's impact head will discharge a .38-caliber blank cartridge propelling the spear deep into the whale's body.

Warren has been skin - diving since 1944. He has captured large fish in the waters of Australia, Fiji, New Caledonia, Bermuda and California.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican's white and golden flags flew today in honor of the 78th birthday and 15th anniversary of the pontificate of Pope Pius XII, reported maintaining his slow recovery from a long illness.

Messages from all parts of the world poured into the Vatican, greeting the frail pontiff and expressing wishes for his full recovery from the abdominal ailment that has confined him to his apartment for 36 days.

In Rome's St. Mary Major Basilica, the world's oldest shrine to the Virgin Mary and the place in which the Pope said his own first mass 54 years ago, thousands attended a high mass for his recovery.

Rhodes

trying to run away from the horrors of a medieval type institution.

"Girls Industrial School is like a penal colony. Certainly, it should be far removed from that philosophy . . .

"I would welcome an opportunity to help them. I would like for the State of Ohio to help them."

Describes 'Hole'

Rhodes gave this description of the "hole" at the school:

It is in the musty basement of a delapidated old building. Solitary confinement cells measure 6½ by 8½ feet. They lack furniture, lights, running water and toilets. Barefoot girls with only a thin slip for clothing lie on a thin mattress on a tile floor with blankets for covering.

The 13 - 16-year-old inmates, Rhodes continued, are locked behind massive doors with barred windows. Outside is a steam-pipe lined corridor leading to another locked door.

"These little girls . . . are permitted one towel a week. It hangs on a steam pipe outside their bare cells," Rhodes said. "They are permitted to shower occasionally. The shower booths they use are so filthy that the average person wouldn't step into them with shoes on.

'Over-Cruel,' He Charges

"The institution isn't overcrowded. It is simply over-cruel," Rhodes asserted.

Officials estimated the inmate population at 350.

Rhodes said a 14-year-old girl inmate of the "hole" had been there 16 days. She was being punished for running away.

"The last time she was in the 'hole' for a month. It is small wonder she ran away.

"This is Ohio's vaunted attack on the so-called girl delinquency problem?" Rhodes asked.

Mrs. Evelyn R. Ethell of Findlay, school superintendent, said that apparently six girls were in correction cells over the weekend but that one was "being moved up" about the time of Rhodes' visit.

The superintendent said she was absent when Rhodes and some other men called but returned before they left without talking to her.

One of the girls in "solitary" was awaiting transfer to Marysville Reformatory for Women, Mrs. Ethell reported. She said the transfer orders arrived too late Saturday but that the shift was made yesterday.

Mrs. Ethell said that girl was the only one who would have been in correction cells for more than two days.

"Every Wednesday we have a meeting and discuss all girls in confinement," the superintendent explained. "Last Wednesday all were cleared out, except one girl."

Plant Official Stricken After Shoveling Snow

JACKSON, Ohio (AP) — Benjamin F. Eggers, 61, general superintendent of the Globe Iron Co. here, died last night after shoveling snow at his home.

Eggers had returned to Jackson only recently from Washington, D. C., where he had attended a White House conference on traffic safety. He had received an appointment from Gov. Frank J. Lausche to be chairman of the safety committee for a district which includes 11 southeastern Ohio counties.

California Considering New-Type Auto Licenses

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — California authorities are considering a change in license plates for the 5,000,000 autos in the state which could produce some surprising results.

California plates now bear one letter and up to six digits. A proposed switch would provide for three letters of the alphabet followed by three numbers.

The new system would provide for 12,000,000 different combinations and allow for the expansion expected in California in the next 10 years.

It would be possible under the proposal for a motorist to have his own initials on his license plates.

Shooting in Congress

A 7:45 a. m. report said Bentley had a "fairly restful" night; that temperature, pulse and respiration were at "a satisfactory level—although the pulse rate is higher than desirable."

Seek Tighter Security

Stunned congressional leaders took immediate steps to tighten security regulations and prevent a recurrence of such a tragedy—the first known instance of bloodshed during an actual session of the House or Senate.

Meanwhile increased security precautions, which already had been ordered at the Capitol, appeared also at the White House 16 blocks up Pennsylvania Avenue.

At the main gate leading to the presidential office, for example, four uniformed White House policemen and a Secret Service agent were stationed—two outside the gate and two inside. Ordinarily only two men are at the post and they stay in a little house just inside the grounds. A guard house at the Pennsylvania avenue end of Executive avenue, which runs alongside the White House was manned for the first time in months.

That more lawmakers and spectators weren't hurt appeared nothing short of miraculous.

An estimated 20 to 30 heavy caliber bullets fired from Luger-type pistols blazed into the House chamber, nicking seats and walls, piercing the new ceiling, chipping plaster and causing everyone to duck for cover.

Several bullets crashed into the wall just a few inches above the seats in the rear of the chamber occupied by page boys. The boys scrambled under seats or darted out the nearest doors.

Nicked by Splinters

Two pellets burrowed into the heavy table at which Republican leaders sit. Seated there at the time were Majority Leader Halleck of Indiana and his assistant, Rep. Arends of Illinois. Neither was hurt, although Arends was nicked by flying splinters. So was Rep. Holmes (R-Wash), who was standing nearby.

About 250 House members were on hand at the time, about 2:30 p.m., having been summoned to the chamber only a short time earlier to debate a bill dealing with importation of Mexican farm workers. The visitors' galleries were less than half filled. About a dozen newsmen sat in the press seats in the same general section, but 50 feet or more away from where the Puerto Ricans sat.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass) adjourned the House in short order while doctors and police took over. The shooting lasted only about a minute.

Was Counting Vote

Martin was counting a standing vote when it started. He never finished.

From a corner of the public gallery to his extreme left and behind him, a volley of shots rang out. Almost everyone at first thought pranksters had tossed a string of firecrackers. Even Rep. Roberts said he thought it was firecrackers "until I saw blood on my leg."

The grim seriousness of the situation became apparent when the Puerto Ricans were spotted spewing lead from pistols firmly gripped between both hands.

One of the gunmen had time to reload his weapon with a 10-bullet clip before being subdued.

Woman Is Leader

Mrs. Lolita Lebron, 34, of New York City, admitted leader of the group, appeared to be having difficulty controlling her pistol. It spouted flame and bullets toward the ceiling, punctuating the woman's cries of "My country is not free; free Puerto Rico!"

As she half ran and was half dragged from the gallery, she tossed into the air the flag of Puerto Rico and shouted again.

Police, doorkeepers and others rushed for the gallery and the door leading from it. Quickly they grabbed three of the assailants and either held them firmly or pinned them to the marble floor in a general scrimmage.

One of those who helped was William Belcher, an assistant doorkeeper, who suffered a heart attack after the excitement died down, and was taken to a hospital.

Carry Extra Ammunition

The three assailants were hustled off to police headquarters along with a fourth captured shortly afterwards. Police said the quartet carried extra ammunition.

At police headquarters the four were booked as:

Mrs. Lebron; Rafael Concel Miranda, 25; Andres F. Cordero, 29; and Irving Flores, 27, all of New York City. All were charged with felonious assault to kill, a charge which carries a maximum penalty of 15 years.

Lolita Lebron, who claimed the ringleader's role in a jail interview, summed up "I do what I must for my country."

And Rafael Concel Miranda declared: "We don't talk about the little things."

Both had more to say about Puerto Rican independence than about the wild shooting that disrupted proceedings in the House.

Each of the four was held, at a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Cyril S. Lawrence, on bail of $100,000.

Also being held without formal charge were three young men picked up away from the Capitol. Police said there was no certainty they had a part in the incident. They were listed as Montes Rivera, 20, Tampa, Fla.; his brother Israel, 23, Deerfield Beach, Fla., and Pablo Mateo, 18, Tampa.

Nationalist Agitators

Police said all four charged were members of the Puerto Rican Nationalists, whose leader is Pedro Albizu Campos. He was pardoned four months ago after serving about two years of prison sentences totaling 54 years as a result of a 1950 riot in San Juan in which 30 persons were killed. Doctors have said he suffers hallucinations.

U. E. Baughman, chief of the Secret Service, said last night his agency "got information several months ago" that the same Nationalist group might try to harm President Eisenhower. He declined to discuss details. In Hartford, Conn., a Puerto Rican was held last night on a charge of threatening to kill the President.

Tom Kennamer, chief House doorkeeper, said Mrs. Lebron's purse contained a note in which she took sole responsibility for the House affair and described it as "a cry for victory in our struggle for independence."

Three Admit Charges

Police Chief Robert V. Murray said Mrs. Lebron, a recent divorcee, and Cordero and Rafael Miranda admitted the shooting. Deputy Detective Edgar E. Scott said the woman named Flores as also being in the group at the Capitol.

Murray quoted the woman as saying they had no particular target but were "just shooting at random to attract attention to their cause."

The Senate adjourned shortly after the shooting; the White House canceled tonight's scheduled reception for congressmen; Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Secretary of the Interior McKay called off their planned visit today to Puerto Rico; and Gov. Louis Munoz Marin issued a statement in Puerto Rico condemning the shooting as an act of savagery.

Admission by Card

Republican and Democratic leaders of the House huddled and agreed that hereafter no visitors may enter the House galleries without admission cards issued by members. These cards had not been required up to today except for reserved sections.

Hereafter, also, Speaker Martin said, additional city police will help maintain order at the Capitol and extra precautions will be taken against the carrying of weapons. Visitors in the past have been required to check cameras and other objects they carry, but haven't been searched.

Police said the Puerto Ricans carried their guns under their coats, and were asked only whether they had cameras.

Only once in previous history, Martin said, had there been anything approaching yesterday's episode, and it was a comparative dud. About 15 years ago a disgruntled citizen arose in the gallery, brandished a loaded revolver and threatened to start shooting. He was placated by former Rep. Melvin Maas of Minnesota and tossed the gun to Maas on the House floor before yielding to police.

Abacuses Placed in Use In Milwaukee Schools

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Seven schools in Milwaukee County are trying an experiment in teaching mathematics with the aid of the ancient abacus.

All students in the first, second and third grades are given small abacuses. Their teachers use the devices in teaching arithmetic.

At the end of the school year, tests will be given the students to determine if they were able to learn arithmetic better or faster than children in other schools who were taught by modern methods.

The abacus is still used in Asia for computing by means of rows of buttons which represent the various multiples of one, ten, 100 and 1,000.

Dr. Andrew F. Schott, on leave of absence from Milwaukee State College, developed the small abacuses used in the experiment.

Dock Workers' Jurisdictional Feud Hits N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—The prospect of a new major tieup confronted the Port of New York today as AFL teamsters, moving against the old longshore union, decided to picket piers in the huge harbor.

Police, ordering special details for the waterfront, said the Eastern Conference of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters met for three hours last night and then scheduled the picketing for this morning.

Warns of Picketing

Earlier a teamsters' official had warned of picketing at about half the piers in the port, the largest in the world. However, today's police announcement said the teamsters planned to picket all but three piers in Manhattan, all but the Bush Terminal and one pier in Brooklyn, and all piers on Staten Island.

The teamsters moved in the latest crisis in the struggle between the AFL and the now-independent International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA), which has been refusing since Friday to load or unload trucks driven by members of Teamsters Local 807.

ILA boycotting of cargo handled by the teamsters came in retaliation to the teamsters' refusal to cross picket lines set up at a Moore-McCormack pier by the new AFL International Longshoremen's Assn. (AFL-ILA). The AFL dockers protested the dropping of one of their shop stewards at the pier. ILA longshoremen went to work despite the picket line, but the teamsters' action resulted in a 50 per cent cut in work.

Truckers Plan Embargo

Officials of Teamsters Local 807 yesterday said drivers would not take trucks to any piers affected by the dispute. Trucking industry officials seconded the embargo.

A teamster spokesman said this move was taken to "clarify" the situation and let truckers use their trucks elsewhere, rather than have them idle on piers where they cannot deliver or pick up freight. He said several thousand trucks are involved.

The ILA briefly lifted its boycott of the teamsters yesterday, but reinstated it after a mediation attempt by the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board failed. The ILA said its action would continue until the AFL-ILA ends picketing at the Moore-McCormack pier.

Some 40 piers were reported involved in the ILA boycott.

The teamsters have been a leading supporter of the AFL-ILA in its fight to win over dock workers from the old ILA.

tween his figures and the President's.

2,008 Cases Listed

The report furnished yesterday listed 2,008 cases outside the Defense Department, but some persons fell into more than one category, as for instance a loose talker also found to be a heavy drinker. Only 1,782 individuals were involved.

The breakdown on the 2,008 separations was: information of a subversive nature, 355; sex perverts, 190; felonies or misdemeanors, 504; other unspecified causes, 959.

The separations included 983 persons fired and 1,241 who resigned, including the 211 dismissals and 231 resignations in the Defense Department. The report did not indicate whether some of these employes got jobs in other agencies.

The Interior Department led the list with 72 "subversive information" cases, followed by the Veterans Administration with 45, State Department 43 and Justice Department 41. One was listed for the White House.

Total Not Included

Young's figures did not include the total number of employes working in the agencies covered.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), senior Democrat on the Senate committee, said before the hearings he had a lot of questions for Young, and that if the answers were not satisfactory, he would press for a Senate inquiry.

He said in an interview he did not think Young's information so far was very enlightening.

"I want him to tell me if any of these people are Communists," the senator said. "If they are, I want to know if the administration has issued any warrants for them."

Johnston said any person who took a government job and concealed that he was a Communist could be prosecuted. But he said he knew of no such cases brought by the Eisenhower administration.

Democrats have contended that some Republicans have tried to lead the public to believe that the 2,200 employes all were Communists or subversives left over from the Truman administration.

BENSON, Vt. (AP) — Franklin B. Kellogg, 79, comes up for re-election today to his 57th consecutive term as town clerk. He has no opposition for the job.

Kelloggs—Franklin, his father, uncle and grandfather—have held the post almost continuously for about 120 years.

Marion Lions Club Members Receive Pins

Presentation of 15-year charter certificates and 15-year Old Monarch pins was made to several members at the Marion Lions Club weekly luncheon meeting Monday at Hotel Harding.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Evelyn Ethell, superintendent of the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware.

Receiving the charter certificates were George Stults, Roy Shipton, William Reichenstein, Willis Nye, Thayer Martin, John Gillis, Jack Danner and Dr. J. W. Bull, while the Old Monarch pins were given to Herbert Petrich, Herbert A. Hertenstein and James Beal.

Terry Conner, a new member, was presented his pin and certificate by his sponsor, Dr. George Pfleiderer.

Mrs. Ethell, who has served as superintendent of the Delaware School since March 1, 1950, told her audience that the juvenile delinquency rate is becoming very alarming and stressed that everyone should be concerned.

Many of the girls coming into the school, she explained, are there on serious charges. At present, there are in the school 350 girls, ranging in age from 12 to 18, who have been committed from juvenile courts.

Telling of the routine of the school, she said the girls attend school one-half day and are in training one-half day.

Each month, about 20 to 30 girls enter and leave the school, Mrs. Ethell said, and on the average, three or four of those who leave eventually return. She believes the home, school, church or community have failed or the girls would not be there. Girls who have been in the school must be accepted upon return to their community and the community must understand the school, Mrs. Ethell added.

"The delinquent child is the unhappy child," Mrs. Ethell said.

Violinist To Give Concert

SZYMON GOLDBERG, one of the reigning masters of the violin, will present a program Thursday night in the Harding High School gymnasium under the sponsorship of the Marion Community Concert Association.

Born in Wloclawec, Poland, he was a child prodigy and a pupil of Carl Flesch. At 16 he was concert master of the Dresden Philharmonic, and four years later Furtwaengler called him to the same post with the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra.

While touring the Far East, the war overtook him in Java. He was interned in 14 different camps and suffered may privations but managed to preserve his violin.

Freed in 1945, he made extensive tours of Australia and later returned to Europe for orchestral and recital tours of England, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Scandinavia, stopping enroute for a tour of Palestine.

Four years ago Goldberg came to America and following a triumphant New York recital was engaged by the New York Philharmonic Symphony as soloist. He is now in the midst of his fourth transcontinental concert of America and his engagements include many appearances with the principal symphony orchestras.

Charter Group Approves Civil Service Rules

Regulations governing the city civil service commission were set up last night at the city charter commission's weekly meeting in the YMCA.

The civil service section was the only one tentatively approved although a section dealing with elections procedure was discussed and will come up for a vote next week.

Adopt State Rules

The one section tentatively approved last night said, in effect, the city civil service commission shall be governed by the laws of Ohio. One exception, however, states that if a state law and a charter provision conflict over civil service, the charter provision shall govern.

This section was tentatively approved as originally drawn by the charter commission except that one addition was made. The addition provides that the civil service commission shall make an annual report to the City Council describing the commission's work for the year.

State laws are to govern both classified and unclassified civil service positions.

Extent of Coverage

Most of the evening was spent on the civil service commission. Discussions were held on 1. Who is and who isn't classified under civil service; 2. Whether the mayor or city manager should appoint the civil service commission and with whose consent; 3. Whether the police or fire chiefs should come from the present departmental ranks or whether outsiders could be allowed in; 4. Whether an annual report on civil service should be made to the City Council.

Galion Lutheran Church Slates Lenten Services

GALION — When a series of Lenten services begin with the Ash Wednesday service this week at Peace Lutheran Church, a miniature gold cross will be given to everyone attending the first service. Along with this will be a leaflet on "What It Means to Wear the Cross."

General subject of the Lenten series which will be held each Wednesday at 8 p.m. during Lent, is "The Greatest Trial in History." Sermons will be given by Rev. Philip E. Auer. Mrs. R. M. Pounder, organist and choir director, has arranged special music.

More than 3,000 housewives in Stuggart, Germany, ask for information over the telephone every day about cooking recipes and receive detailed cooking instruction for a wide variety of nauve dishes.

Findlay Minister Will Lead Service At Marion Church

Rev. Donald W. Cryer of Findlay will be the speaker at the Ash Wednesday service of Epworth Methodist Church tomorrow night. He is pastor of First Methodist Church there. This will be the first in a series of Wednesday night Lenten services at Epworth Church for which other guest speakers have been scheduled. The subject tomorrow night will be, "Can Religion Be Personal?"

Active in youth work in the Ohio Conference of the denomination, Rev. Cryer was a delegate to the National Family Life Conference in Chicago, Ill., in 1951, and was a jurisdictional conference delegate in 1952 at Milwaukee, Wis. He is treasurer of the Ohio Conference expense fund.

He studied theology at Garrett Biblical Institute, receiving a Bachelor of Divinity degree in 1937, and did graduate study at Northwestern University. After his ordination into the ministry he served pastorates in Illinois and at Toledo, Carey, and Westerville before going to Findlay.

Other ministers coming to Epworth Church for the succeeding midweek Lenten services include Rev. Herbert Thompson, manager of the Methdist Camp Grounds at Lakeside; Rev. Louis Wolter of First Methodist Church at Middletown; Rev. J. Otis Young of Columbus, administrauve assistant to Bishop Hazen G. Werner; Rev. Virgil Jump of Christ Methodist Church in Cleveland; and Rev. S. Lee Whitman Jr., superintendent of the Youngstown District of the Methodist Church.

BEEKEEPERS WILL MEET

BUCYRUS — C. A. Reese, Ohio State University extension apiarist, will be the principal speaker at a meeting at the courthouse here tonight of Crawford County beekeepers. Reese will show a film on "pollination," depicting how bees pollinate flowers, and also will show some slides on "queen production." A discussion on bee production problems will follow.

Salt and Pepper Shakers Make Hobby for Upper Sanduskian

UPPER SANDUSKY — Shakers, by the score, a total of nearly 200 pairs of salt and pepper servers, comprise a collection that is a prized possession of Harry Merrick of near Upper Sandusky.

A tall, slim man with dark twinkling eyes, Merrick has a rather dry and salty wit, seasoned with 71 years of zestful living, but has only a trace of pepper in his interesting personality. He lives three miles north of Upper Sandusky on the Tiffin Road in the large farmhouse where he was born.

They Share Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Merrick share an interest in gardening that is reflected in a large well-kept lawn with numerous flower beds in front of their home and bordering the long drive from the highway to the house. Featured flowers are "cushion mums," magic lilies and peonies.

Harry has been collecting the seasoning sets for the past 12 years. Some he has purchased at farm sales and on vacation trips, but many are gifts from friends and relatives. There are no duplicates in the collection.

The most expensive pair he has purchased, a hand-painted rooster and hen, cost him $2.50 in Los Angeles and is a souvenir of a visit several years ago at the home of a son there. One of the gifts in the collection is a pair of English Walnut shells, drilled, polished and made into a shaker set by inmates of the state hospital for mental patients at Traverse City, Mich. Merrick received the set from a daughter who is employed there.

Includes Varied Shapes

The varied shapes of the colorful display include spice mills, flat irons, pheasants, rabbits, dogs, squirrels and pink elephants, a churn and milking stool. Indian brave and squaw, apples, cherries, strawberries, a cradle telephone, cup cakes, biscuits, Sun Flowers, an egg and skillet combination and a pair of cactus plants.

The collection is still growing, largely through contributions of friends and relatives who have seen the sets displayed on the shelves of an antique desk-bookcase in the Merrick home, or by an occasional find of a different set by Mr. Merrick as he attends auction and household goods sales in the community.

Lenten Services Begin At Church in Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — The congregation of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church here will participate in a series of mid-week Lenten services beginning Wednesday night when Rev. Brice L. Chidester, church pastor, will preach.

On March 10, Rev. Paul Rohrbaugh of Upper Sandusky will deliver the sermon; March 17, Rev. E. A. Eigenrauch of Hope Church at Sulphur Springs; March 24, Rev. J. Paul Doppen, McCutchenville; March 31, Rev. J. Paul Goebel, Marion.

At the April 7 service, the Women's Guild will preside and a film, "The Hidden Heart," will be shown. On April 14, Rev. E. G. Corwin of Whetstone will be the speaker and on April 15, which is Maundy Thursday, Communion will be observed.

Seven railroad stations in London handle 887,000 incoming and outgoing passengers a day on 5,215 trains. The busiest station, Waterloo, has 664 trains in a 24-hour period and 54 trains in the heaviest hour, according to British railways.

Health Advisory Council Discusses Trash on Highways

Garbage and trash disposal along country roads and the problems this practice creates was discussed when members of the Advisory Council of the Marion County Health Board met Monday for the annual reorganization meeting.

Council members were promised the support of the County Health Department in combating this practice, but were reminded that proof was required before the law violators could be prosecuted.

Cletus Uhl, the council's secretary last year, was elected president, and Herb Kempton was elected secretary.

The council re-elected E. L. Behrens to a five-year term on the County Health Board. Other board members are H. Clay Smith, president, J. W. Campbell, Victor H. Kreis, and Dr. M. F. Axthelm.

Dr. Bret B. Hurd, county health commissioner, presented a summary report of nurses' activities for the year.

The advisory council is composed of chairmen of township trustees and mayors of villages in the county.

Auto Collision Action Ended at Bucyrus Court

BUCYRUS — The $281 action for money, resulting from an auto collision, of George D. Stratton of near Bucyrus against Jay I. Klopfenstein, Galion, has been settled and dismissed, Crawford County Common Pleas Court officials announced here today. Costs were charged to the defendant.

In Stratton's petition, filed Jan 14, he charged that the defendant drove his car into the plaintiff's car near the intersection of State Routes 19 and 602, seven miles southeast of Bucyrus, on Dec. 21. Stratton had asked $261 for damages to his car.

Marion Sectional Play Begins Tonight at Coliseum

Prexies Battle Mansfield; Bucyrus Will Meet Upper

Harding receives its first tourney chance of 1954 tonight when it takes the floor against Mansfield, second seeded team in the Class A Sectional Tourney, on the Coliseum boards.

The game is slated for 8:40 p.m., the last on a three-game card. Gates at the Coliseum open at 5 p.m.

Top-seeded Ashland, 16-1, and Crestline, 4-9, start the ball rolling when they lineup for the jump at 6 p.m. The second tilt at 7:20 p.m. finds Bucyrus, seeded fourth with an 8-5 mark, going against Upper Sandusky, 3-7.

Mansfield may be playing without the services of George Swank, 6-5 center who is a dead outside shot. He is out with an injury and it is doubtful whether he will see action tonight.

Arrows Minus Two

Ashland will also likely be missing two boys from the lineup tonight against Crestline. Messner and Brewer, two A starters, were injured in a motor scooter accident recently and may not get into the lineup. The injuries could lead to a pair of upsets before the event ends Saturday.

Games will go on as scheduled tonight despite the bad weather. Many fans had worried when Ashland was covered with a 12-inch snow yesterday.

Mansfield will go into its battle with Harding as the top heavy season mark.

The Tygers dropped a pair of close decisions to Ashland during the regular season, a team which drubbed the Prexies 78-55 early during the regular season.

The Mansfield quintet will have heighth to spare at almost every position over Harding. Phil Tinkey, a forward who stands 6-4, is Mansfield's other big gun in addition to Swank.

Eight other six footers are included on the Mansfield roster.

They include Larry Brinkman, a 6-2 center; Ed Deeds, a 6-3 forward; Pudge Henkel, a 6-1 forward; Roy Miller, a 6-3 center; Jack Neal, a 6-0 forward; Jack Nichols, a 6-0 guard; Clayton Smith, a 6-0 forward; and Larry Zartman, a 6-0 forward.

Other members of the Tyger squad are Jack Cline, a 5-9 guard; Bob Ernest, a 5-9 guard; Dave Jacoby, a 5-8 guard; William Mack, a 5-11 guard; Ralph Rose, a 5-8 forward.

Harding Starters

Harding will probably go with Bob Hamor and Max Kaelber at the forwards; Dave Schnelker at center; and Ron Conroy and Doug Bibler at the guards. Only Schnelker and Kaelber reach the six foot mark.

be bidding for the second straight

Coach Jim Lawler's charges will victory and ninth of the season. The Prexies closed their regular season last Friday with a 75-68 win over Tiffin Columbian. It marked their second victory in the last three games and concluded the Harding season at 8-11.

Conroy dumped in 23 points against Tiffin to add to his scoring total last week. He now leads Prexy scorers with 254 points. Hamor is next in line with 190 after potting 13 in the Tiffin game.

Bibler's season scoring is 162 points while Schnelker, who hit for 12 against Tiffin, has 161, Don Smith 148 and Kaelber 114.

Phil Carroll, who broke into the Harding lineup against Tiffin, wound up with 12 points to boost his season scoring mark to 58.

SENIOR STARS. The six boys receiving instructions from Coach Jim Lawler will be starting on the final phase of their high school cage careers in the Marion Sectional tourney tonight. Carrying the major share of Harding High School's hopes are standing, left to right, Max Kaelber, Dave Schnelker and Bob Hamor. Kneeling are Doug Bibler, Ron Conroy and Don Smith.

Shoulder Fractured

Boston Flag Hopes Dimmed By Injury to Ted Williams

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The opening of the 1954 American League season is still six weeks away but the pennant stock of the Boston Red Sox, faced with the loss of Ted Williams, has already slumped to almost microscopic proportions.

The 35-year-old outfielder suffered a fractured left shoulder in the first 10 minutes of spring training yesterday when he stumbled and fell while chasing a sinking liner off the bat of Hoot Evers.

There's no telling just how much of the upcoming campaign he'll miss, but examining physicians said, "He will not be able to lift his arm or swing a bat for six weeks."

Williams himself is more optimistic and predicts he will be in the opening day lineup against the Philadelphia Athletics April 13.

"I'm going to work that much harder to get in shape," he said.

The entire upper portion of his body was placed in a cast, but Jack Fadden, the club's trainer, said that he "will be able to run as soon as the pain leaves his shoulder."

Some observers had been giving the Bosox an outside chance of winning the American League pennant after they acquired outfielder Jackie Jensen and pitcher Leo Kiely returned from the Army.

After Manager Lou Boudreau had accompanied Williams to the hospital, the Red Sox went through their opening drill under the direction of Coach Del Baker. Veteran third sacker George Kell and catcher Sammy White signed their contracts in time to take part in the practice.

At Lakeland, Fla., Manager Freddie Hutchison of the Detroit Tigers indicated that shortstop Harvey Kuenn would be dropped at least to the No. 2 spot in the batting order. Kuenn cracked out 209 hits as a leadoff man in 1953 and Hutchinson figures "he should drive in more runs for a fellow with that many base hits."

A first-class battle for second base was shaping up in the camp of the Milwaukee Braves. Jack Dittmer, last year's regular, and Danny O'Connell, secured from Pittsburgh, are the competitors, and Manager Charley Grimm believes it may take a month before he decides.

In other spring training news, outfielder Ralph Kiner of the Chicago Cubs is seven pounds under his weight of last year and says he is looking forward to a fine season . . . Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's burly catcher, was bedded with a heavy cold in his back . . . Ray Jablonski again was tabbed by Manager Eddie Stankey as the regular St. Louis Cardinals' third baseman . . . outfielder Willie Mays was discharged from the Army and is expected to join the New York Giants sometime today . . . Manager Fred Haney sent the Pittsburgh club through a session of limbering-up exercises.

Pitcher Early Wynn of Cleveland, outfielder Jim Busby of Washington and infielder Granny Hamner of the Philadelphia Phillies all signed 1954 contracts.

Kenton Quintet Hands Findlay 60-58 Beating

KENTON — George Keel's Kenton Wildcats pulled a major upset in the Class A Sectional Basketball Tournament at Bluffton last night when they clipped top-seeded Findlay 60-58. The win avenged an earlier 55-42 loss to the Trojans and advanced the Kenton quintet to the tournament semi-finals. It will meet Lima South at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The tilt was close all the way, with a pair of foul shots by Bob Conkle and Virgil Deardorff in the final 48 seconds of play snapping a 58-58 tie and proving to be the winning margin. Kenton held the ball and ate up the time after a Findlay shot failed to connect following the pair of free throws.

Kenton won the contest from the foul line where it connected on 26 of 40 attempts. Findlay hit 16 of its 31 trys. The Trojans lost three players via the foul route in the final few minutes.

J. R. Hickel paced the Kenton attack with 19 points, 11 coming from the foul line. Deardorff added 15 while a pair of substitutes, Conkle and Cliff Jump, hit for nine and eight points respectively. Dave Miller popped in 19 points for the Trojans.

KENTON 60

Deardorff 6-3-15; Hickel 4-11-19; Hogan 0-6-6; Highland 0-1-1; Waddle 0-2-2; Conkle 4-1-9; Jump 3-2-8.

Y Cagers End Play; Elevator, AC Top League

The YMCA Industrial-Independent League completed the season's schedule at the YMCA last night with the Marion AC Bird-McGinnis and Marion Industries emerging as victors. The games proved nothing since both championships had been decided last week as Green Camp Elevator completed its fourth season with an undefeated record and Marion Industries captured the Industrial League for the second year in succession. Green Camp will travel to Toledo March 20 for the open district tournament and Marion Industries will play in the Industrial district tournament in Marion on the same date.

The thriller of the evening was staged between Bird-McGinnis and Marion Power Shovel. The Legion five nipped the Shovel 49-47 in the final two seconds of play as Bob Lee hooked in a lefthand pivot shot from the key hole to break a 47-47 deadlock. The Shovel had taken an early lead and maintained a three to four - point margin through three periods. In the final stanza the two teams traded baskets and with a minute to go were tied up at 43-43. Howard Gilbert put the Legion ahead with a one-hander from the foul circle but Chief Bender tied it up by duplicating Gilbert's shot with 15 seconds to go to set the stage for Lee's game - winning heave. Bender was high for MPS with 19 while Don Williams had 11 for the winners.

The Marion AC captured its 10th win of the campaign with a 60-43 verdict over Alloy, as Don West poured in 20 points to lead his charges. Marion Industries dumped GI Post 63-53 in the finale. Harold Dillion netted 30 for the Industrial League champions while Max Roseberry heaved in 16 to lead the Post scoring.

NOTHING UP THEIR SLEEVES

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Most college football coaches prefer to keep each other in the dark on grid strategy. Not so with Eddie Price of the University of Texas and Jack Mitchell of the University of Wichita. When Price's Longhorn squad turned out at Austin, Mitchell demonstrated strong points of the split-T formation offense. And when Wheatshocker gridders gather here later this spring, Price will be on the faculty to demonstrate line play—Texas style.

LAKES FOR ANGLERS

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — If you don't have a lake, make one. That's the attitude of the Kansas Forestry, Fish and Game Commission. They will start soon on the sixth new manmade lake. This one, near Mankato, will be a 60-acre lake with a maximum depth of 35 feet. The others in the program range from 43 to 105 acres.

Mt. Gilead Stops Midway's Boganrife; Cops 66-46 Win

MT. GILEAD — A tight zone defense thrown up by the Mt. Gilead Indians gave them an upset win last night in Central District action at Capital University at Bexley. The Indians dumped favored Midway 66-46.

The Mt. Gilead zone stopped Midway's high-scoring ace Dick Boganrife with his lowest point total since district play last season. He ended the game with 13 points. Boganrife, who had been one of the leading scorers in Ohio during the season, notched a state record last year when he closed with an average of 38.2 points a game. During one tilt last year he collected 116 markers.

Midway carried a 20-4 mark into the fray while Mt. Gilead now boasts a 17-3 reading. The winners will play the winner of tonight's Newark St. Francis-Howard game tonight. That game will be played Friday night.

Mt. Gilead was able to take only a 12-11 lead in the first period but held the potent Midway machine to nine markers in the second period as it raced into a 40-20 lead at the half. At the start of the last period, the Indians were leading by a 54 - 39 edge.

Lanky Ted Moody pumped in 24 markers to lead the winners' attack while Dick Zolman collected 15 and John Staley finished with 14. Midway was led by Dorn with 19 and Boganrife's 13.

MT. GILEAD 66

Middies, Lockland Wayne Top Final Basketball Poll

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The consensus of Ohio's sports editors is that Middletown and Lockland Wayne are the No. 1 choices to take the state high school basketball championships.

The twice-beaten teams finished on top again today, in the final Associated Press poll of the campaign, but the margins were narrow.

In Class A the Middies, winners of the state crown the last 2 years, finished only 27 poll points ahead of Hamilton on the 10-9-8-etc voting basis, while Lockland Wayne, the 1952 champ, was only 5 points up on Vienna which boasts the state's longest winning streak of 26.

Middletown, in quest of its sixth championship in 11 years, goes into tournament action tomorrow night at Dayton, with West Carrollton as the foe. The Carrollton club has been beaten in 6 of 16 starts.

The Middies, if season's records are a criterion, should have little trouble reaching the finals of the Dayton sectional scrap. Franklin, with a 14-5 record, is the best in Middletown's bracket. But in the lower half, waiting for a crack at the champs in the finale are Dayton Roosevelt and Dayton Stivers.

Only blot on Roosevelt's record is a 2-point loss to second-place Hamilton in 17 starts, while Stivers, which has won more state titles than any other team (eight) has a 15-4 mark.

Here's how the sports editors rate the teams in the final Associated Press poll of the season. First place votes and poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis, in parentheses, with the won-lost records of the top 10.

CLASS A

Teams	Won	Lost
Middletown (7-185)	16	2
Hamilton (0-158)	17	3
Ashland (1-127)	18	1

Trail All the Way

Claridon Clipped in Tourney Battle; Bows to Dublin 61-54

Claridon's Hornets were eliminated in their first Central District tournament outing last night at Otterbein College by Dublin 61-54 in a hard-fought game.

The runners-up of the Franklin County League grabbed a 1-0 lead in the opening minute and Claridon trailed the rest of the way.

Sparked by Chuck Pinney, the Shamrocks raced to a 14-8 lead in the first period as Gail Castle was the only Hornet able to hit. He ended the first frame with six markers.

The Hornets overcame an attack of erratic passing at the start of the second period to move to a 15-13 deficit when Bob Johnston hit on the first free throw awarded the Marion Countians and Castle and Bud Price dropped in fielders. Walt Myers and Pinney continued to give the Dublin team control of the rebounds when Coach Allen Augenstein was forced to pull his ace, Gary Row, who had been charged with three personal fouls.

The Shamrocks built their halftime margin to nine points after he left to hold a 30-21 edge at the intermission. But at the start of the third period, the Hornets came to life.

Gene Jessie began cleaning the boards and Price was hitting consistently from outside. Before the Shamrock team could reorganize, Claridon had cut the margin to 30-26 and kept coming until it trailed only 31-30 with over five minutes to play.

But then Pinney took over again to lead his mates to a 46-41 lead going into the fourth and final period.

Before the Hornets could score again the Shamrocks held a comfortable 51-41 cushion. They maintained a nine to 10-point lead for the rest of the game umil the Hornets potted six quick points in the closing 45 seconds of play.

The Hornets outscored the losers from the field 23 to 18 but Dublin ruined the Marion team's chance at the foul line. The winners dropped in 25 of 34 chances while Claridon hit on 10 of only 13 cracks from the charity line.

Pinney topped the Dublin attack with 25 points while Myers dropped in 13. For Claridon Price was the big gun with 18. Castle notched 16 and Jessie scored nine.

In the other game at Westerville last night, Hartford dropped Pickaway 76-68 to nail down a spot in the quarter-finals.

CLARIDON 54

Jessie 3-3-9; Castle 7-2-16; G. Row 1-0-2; Price 8-2-18; Pickett 0-0-0; Lehner 1-0-2; L. Row 1-0-2; Johnston 2-2-6.

Bob Lemon Only Indian Holdout After Two Sign

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Bob Lemon, only Cleveland pitcher to win 20 games last year, was the club's only holdout today after pitcher Early Wynn and rookie Bob Prentice reached terms.

Wynn, who had a 17-12 record last season, came to agreement yesterday during a telephone call with General Manager Hank Greenberg.

No salary terms were announced but the big righthander is believed to have gotten around $32,000—about $6,000 less than last year. He won 23 and lost 12 in 1952.

HOME RUN TRAIL

BOSTON (AP)—Jackie Jensen, Red Sox outfielder acquired from the Senators, had an unusual homer mark last season. Jensen was one of seven players to hit at least one home run in each American League park. He hit only one round tripper in his own field, Griffith Stadium.

Kentucky Wins Top Spot After Dukes Lose Two

NEW YORK (AP) — Kentucky's all-winning basketball team regained its favorite spot today when the nation's sports writers and sportscasters named the Wildcats No. 1 team in the country.

Ousted from the top spot for the past two weeks by Duquesne, Kentucky rolled back with first-place votes from 59 of the 120 experts who cast ballots. On the usual basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so forth, Kentucky totaled 964 points.

Kentucky, which headed the poll from the third week of the season through the ninth, completed its regular season last night by defeating Alabama 68-43 for a 24-0 mark.

Duquesne, upset by Cincinnati Friday and again by Dayton Saturday, tumbled all the way to fourth place.

LaRosa Is Sued By 2 Song Writers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Julius La Rosa, the singer, and several associates have been sued for 1¼ million dollars damages by two song writers and a recording company, on grounds of copyright infringement.

The action was brought yesterday by songwriters Tony Sacco and Thomas Conroy, and Record Music Corp. Their complaint involves the song "Eh Cumpari," which Sacco and Conroy contend is substantially the same as their song, "Hey, Goomba," written before 1948.

St. Mary Preps for Battle With Union County Leaders

St. Mary is prepping for its opening start in the Class B District Basketball Tournament at Capital Wednesday.

The Irish, 14-7 over the season, meet Northwestern of Raymond, Union County league champ and tournament runner-up, at 8:30 p.m.

Newark in Opener

The opening game at 7 p.m. will pit Newark St. Francis, one of the four seeded teams at Capital with a 19-3 mark, against Howard, 9-12.

Northwestern brings a 15-7 mark into the fray with St. Mary after winning the Union County Leegue title with a 7-3 mark and sweeping through the consolation bracket of the county tournament for the runner-up spot.

Coach Gil Sauve's forces lost to Byhalia in their first start but came back through the consolation bracket, whipping the same Byhalia team for second spot in the tournament.

Probable starting lineup for Northwestern will have Harold Herd, a 6-0 senior, and Larry Michael, a 6-3 junior; at the forwards; Hayes Crum, a 5-11 senior, at center; and George Steele, a 5-6 junior, and Bill Nibert, a 5-6 senior, at the guards.

Scoring has been fairly evenly distributed among Crum, Steele and Herd with Crum leading, also likely to see action for the Irish opposition is Charles Argo. The 5-10 cager had been a starter until recent games.

Northwestern's season slate includes three wins over Byhalia and Darby thrice, Richwood twice, Union, Magnetic Springs, North Lewisburg, Ostrander and Ridgeway.

Losses were to West Mansfield, Mt. Victory, Woodstock, Richwood, Magnetic Springs, Union and Byhalia. The Richwood loss came in the opening game of the season but since then, Northwestern has come back to defeat the Tigers twice.

First Year

Sauve is in his first year of coaching at Northwestern. He graduated from Ohio State University last June.

The Irish, who wound up their regularly scheduled season with a slim victory over Marysville for a 13-7 mark, qualified for the district tourney by downing Granville 45-37 last week in exempted village and parochial school tourney action at Westerville.

Coach Ray Robbins is expected to start Mike Anderson and Jack O'Keefe at the forwards, Roger Micheli at center, and Butch Merchant and Jerry Ballenger at the guard slots.

Anderson, who is recovering from a badly sprained ankle suffered in the game with Granville, is pacing the Irish offense with 298 points. He is trailed in scoring by Micheli and Merchant, both of whom have 218 points. Merchant caged 18 of his in last week's encounter with Granville.

Ballenger has 82 points over the season while O'Keefe has dropped in 76. John Messenger and Larry Ryan, who both undoubtedly will break into the Irish lineup, have 86 and 51 points respectively for the season.

Morral and Prospect bid to keep Marion County in the Central District Class B Tournament picture when they also take the floor at Capital and Otterbein this week.

Morral, the county's third place quintet, faces Amanda, 14-5, in its first tourney test Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at Otterbein gym. The Wildcats take an 18-5 mark into the fray.

Prospect, county tournament runner-up, steps into action Thursday night. The Bulldogs face Williamsport at 7 p.m. at Capital. Both clubs take 17-4 records into the game.

Meet Fort Wayne

Cincinnati Keeping Busy Before Action in Playoffs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Charlie Hodge, sensational Cincinnati goalie, and his Mohawk teammates travel to Fort Wayne for an International Hockey League game tonight.

The Mohawks already have won the IHL championship, their second straight. Their remaining four games will enable them to keep in shape for the playoffs in two weeks and to add to new records in the league.

Hodges passed the former IHL mark of eight shutouts in a season when he blocked all Marion scoring attempts Sunday for his ninth. The second-place Barons gave the Mohawks their 14th straight win. This too is an IHL record.

For the first time in four weekly reckonings, Johnstown and Toledo are not tied for third place. The Jets moved in front, although it took 2 victories in 5 games to do so. Toledo only played once, a 5-4 win over Grand Rapids.

In addition to the point advantage, the Jets have 7 more contests to Toledo's 6, thus indicating the Pennsylvania team—a former Eastern Hockey League entry—may keep the third place berth for itself.

There were no other changes in the standings.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Jack Boag, trainer for the Marion Barons, waited until his final appearance before the home crowd before getting into the act during Sunday's brawl with Cincinnati's Mohawks.

SHORT

Jack will miss the playoff struggles with the same Mohawks since he leaves the Marion club next week for his summertime job as business manager of the Fargo-Morehead, N. D., baseball team in the Northern League. He's scheduled to leave Marion next Monday for Daytona Beach to get his first look at his new charges.

The Baron trainer, now known as One Punch, made it a good one in the opening period Sunday. It was the punch that touched off the biggest hockey riot of the season. Boogie left the Coliseum nursing a rib bruise after Ed Kachur poked him from the penalty box with his stick. Boag retaliated with a right-hand uppercut but was forced to take a back seat when Tony Poeta took over the job of clobbering Kachur.

DURING THE 15-minute fracas it was a tossup as to the most nervous man in the house. Hal Jackson, the referee, and Jim Hendy, boss of the Cleveland Barons, were in a close race for that honor. Hendy, whose Cleveland club is stalled and in a five-game losing streak, was stunned by the vision of some of his future players being laid low with cracked heads and legs. Jackson was just plain confused.

After peace was restored, the referee insisted he was about to tag everyone involved in the ruckus with a misconduct penalty. He cooled down only after Coach Ott Heller pointed out he would be playing with, at the most, two men on each club.

AT THE END of the game, Boag was still a little disappointed. "I was doing all right," he insisted, and was ready to carry on.

Another disappointed member of the Barons was Murray Wilkie, who sat straining at the leash in the press box during the struggle. He drew a suspension for the game during the last meeting of the two clubs. Wilkie is one of the most aggressive of the Barons and is known around the league for a wicked right hand.

GAME POSTPONED

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—The Class A high school basketball sectional tournament game between Willard and Tiffin Columbian scheduled here last night was rescheduled for this afternoon because of weather conditions.

Bowling

Zoe DeMilt rolled 196-583 for honors in the Monday Night Ladies League at Palace Recreation. Her high series came on games of 196, 195 and 192. Mary Prior hit 180-180-531 while Helen Culp rolled 180-496. Other high games were Mildred Thome's 185, Florence Wilcox's 183 and Louella Massie's 181. Team honors went to Lee's Steak House with 867 and Osborne's Rest Home with 2413.

Charles Samples scattered the pins for a 227-551 count in the Marion Industries League at Marion Recreation. Team honors were copped by Tool Room No. 2 with 815 and Tool Room No. 1 with 2314.

Nite Shift League bowlers were led by Elwood Hazen's 207 and Ray Robbins' 561. Other 200 games belonged to Francis Haubert, a 204, and Russel Mick, a 201. Carl's Triangle hit 934 while H & H Bar and Grill totaled 2388 for team laurels.

Mercantile League bowlers were topped by Bob Cole's 210 - 566. Team honors went to Marion Auto with 835 and Pfeiffers with 2329.

Ferriman's 213 and W. Kimball's 589 showed the way in the Utility League where eight games of 200 or better were rolled. Team No. 4 hit 896-2558 for team honors.

H. Clark's 209-550 was tops in the Palace League where two games of 200 or more were recorded. Corner Bar with 903 and Pollak Posco with 2521 led the teams.

Ernie Owen's 211-589 led men keglers in the Palace Mixed Doubles where five games of 200 or more were posted. Women were paced by Sue Disbennett's 185-487. Team No. 1 with 642-1843 topped the teams.

Ebert Finishes Playing Career For Ohio State

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—The senior who set most of Ohio State's basketball scoring marks and the sophomore who is threatening to break them played outstanding games last night as the Buckeye closed their basketball season.

The Bucks closed shop against Iowa on the short end of an 84-71 score, but Paul Ebert, the 6-foot 4 center from Columbus, tallied 19 points and Robin Freeman, sophomore guard from Cincinnati, scored 21.

The loss evened Ohio State's season mark at 11-11 and put its Big Ten record at 5-9 and seventh place in the standings.

Ebert, in his farewell performance, brought his season total to 519—39 points higher than his own previous Ohio State record. His 3-year record regular season mark is 1,436. Dick Schnittker, who was graduated in 1950, had the previous high of 1,064.

By winning last night Iowa stayed in mathematical contention for a title tie.

In 1878-79 John L. Sullivan fought and defeated five opponents and received a total sum of $320 for his efforts.

Ted Insists He'll Play in '54 Opener

By JOE REICHLER

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Ted Williams vowed today he'd fool the doctors who gloomily predicted he would miss the baseball season's opener because of a fractured collarbone.

"Don't bet against my playing in the opening game of the season," the Boston Red Sox slugger said. "I'll be ready. I'll get over this sooner than they think. I've fooled the doctors before and I'll fool 'em again."

Dr. Russell R. Sullivan, chief surgeon of the orthopedic division of the Boston City Hospital, who set the fracture and placed the injured left shoulder in a cast, was not so optimistic.

"It was a clean break and X-rays show a quite satisfactory position," he said. "But Ted must be in the cast a minimum of three weeks and cannot swing a bat for about six weeks. It is highly doubtful if he'll be ready for the season opener."

The Red Sox open their season at Philadelphia April 13, six weeks from today. It is estimated Williams would need at least two weeks of batting practice and conditioning, after his recovery, before he could play in a regular game.

The injury, his second of a serious nature in less than four years, occurred less than an hour after he arrived at Payne Field for his first spring workout of the season. He had been shagging flies in his customary left field position for 18 minutes when he faced into left center for a liner hit by Hoot Evers. The ball sank sharply and Williams, realizing he couldn't catch up with it, tried to stop. He stumbled and landed heavily on his left shoulder.

He arose slowly, obviously in great pain. He grabbed his left shoulder and immediately strode toward the clubhouse behind right field. As he passed teammate Billy Goodman, he grimaced in pain and uttered: "I heard something pop. I think something broke."

After Red Sox trainer Jack Fadden administered first aid, Williams was whisked away to a doctor.

X-rays will be taken again tomorrow, after which Williams will return to his winter home in Miami Fla.

Williams, 35, pointed out he came back sooner than expected in 1950 when he fractured his left elbow making a spectacular catch in the All-Star Game in Chicago.

Morrow Grange Plans Remodeling

MT. GILEAD — Members of the Canaan Grange, who recently raised $15 for the March of Dimes with a cakewalk and candy sale, are getting ready to go ahead with remodeling plans.

Plans call for moving the present Grange building about 30 feet back from the road. The bottom half of the building, a barn and the lot were purchased from Riley Coriell in December. The barn has been sold. Since the present building is located on the highway right-of-way it will be moved back 30 feet. Plans are being made to use the upstairs, or old Grange Hall for the Juvenile Grange.

Downstairs rooms will be made into a modern kitchen and dining hall. A new 40 by 50 foot addition is planned for meetings with a stage, toilets and furnace room.

On the building committee are Paul Mititen, Mrs. Morris Payne, William Bennett, Mrs. Raymond Bush and Orrie Myers.

Whipping Banned

ATLANTA (AP)—The State Board of Education has banned the whipping of pupils at Georgia's blind and deaf schools.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Drama in Color

I'm aware that I'm talking to an empty room but I can't restrain myself from saying again that color television is a marvelous thing. Latest show to be broadcast in color was Armstrong Circle Theater which is not normally one of my enthusiasms.

J. CROSBY

The stories on Circle Theater, it has always seemed to me, are a little pallid as if the producer were trying so very hard not to offend anyone that they succeed only in not interesting anyone either.

This story was no exception to that strange rule but it was redeemed by a crackerjack cast and, of course, color. It was the story of an opera singer, retired for 20 years, who comes out of retirement to make her first television broadcast.

THE OPERA SINGER was played by Jarmila Novotna who is not only a fine singer but also an extremely competent actress. The play was fairly routine backstage stuff, the singer throwing one tantrum after another to conceal her lack of confidence, but finally triumphing as millions weep.

But the color lit up the living-room with its grays and mustards and purples. Miss Novotna made her entrance in a gray fur coat (from what animal I cannot say, not being much of an expert on these things) which would have made all the girls swoon with envy.

I rather wish they had pitched Novotna into something besides "Madame Butterfly" but while the arias are a little shopworn, the costumes in color were resplendent. Also there were satisfying performances by Arthur Franz and Richard Kollmar, the husband of Dorothy Kilgallen which sometimes obscures the fact that he's a darned good actor.

IN BLACK AND WHITE, this would have been a rather ordinary half hour. In color, it was a memorable experience. It was particularly memorable to me because it was the first drama I have seen in color. There have been operas —"Amahl and the Night Visitors" and "Carmen" — and Howdy Doody (a whole week of Howdy Doody, for heaven's sake) and even John Cameron Swayze in color.

Come to think of it they even had Fred Allen in color, conceivably the stiffest test the compatible color system ever was asked to undergo. He came through fine.

There's always been a question in my mind whether color would help or hinder an ordinary play. There are some plays, just as there are some movies, that had best remain in black and white, whose dramatic impact is heightened by the austerity of black and white. But there's almost nothing else, even John Cameron Swayze, who isn't improved a little bit by color.

IT IS MY THEORY that passivity in children is a bad thing. Reading takes a certain amount of mental effort and baseball requires a great deal of a different kind of effort and both are good for the kids. But sitting in front of a television set requires nothing but eyes and ears and I'm always happy when a program comes along which demands more than a child's attention.

The most notable example, of course, is "Ding Dong School" where very small youngsters are taught painting and all manner of things and love it. A less high-minded but still worthwhile show is "Winky Dink and You" (CBS-TV 11 a.m. Saturdays). This requires a kit which you can get by mailing 50 cents to the program.

IN THE KIT is a green transparency which fastens on the front of the TV set and some special crayons to draw on it. Jack Barry, the emcee who has almost made a profession out of talking to children and who is very good at it, then shows the children what to draw on the transparency.

With the aid of semi-animated figures, he tells stories. Then the kids are asked to help out. For instance, telling a story about Robin Hood fleeing from the Sheriff of Nottingham, he gets the kids to draw a door so that he can get through a wall, then to rub out the door so that the sheriff can't follow him. The program has a lot of quiet humor and ought to be just the thing to keep the kids occupied for half an hour Saturday morning.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market backed down today after a fairly steady start.

The decline was well scattered throughout the list, and there was no selling pressure evident at any time.

Losses went to around a point at the outside. A few plus signs were as large as a point, but most were small.

Lower stocks included Southern Pacific, Texas Co., Allied Chemical, General Electric, Bethlehem Steel, Montgomery Ward, and Douglas Aircraft.

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

IT'S PERFECTLY SIMPLE, MIKE. MALDOON! IF CANYON GOES ALONG ON THE FLIGHT TO RED CHINA TO PICK UP THE HERON, YOU'LL HAVE THE SAME HOLD ON HIM THAT YOU HAVE ON ME!
YET YOU WOULDN'T TRUST HIM TO TAKE A FLIGHT IN THERE ALONE!..SO I WILL BREAK HIM IN AND YOU'LL HAVE A SPARE PILOT TO HANDLE THE CONTRABAND WHEN YOU NEED HIM!
MYNHEER CANYON!
COME IN, CANYON! BOB, THIS IS STEVE CANYON, THE NEW PILOT!
GLAD TO KNOW YOU, CANYON
STEVE, BOB IS GOING TO STAY WITH INDASIA AIR AFTER ALL... I WANT YOU TO FLY COPILOT WITH HIM ON A RUN TO THE NORTH! HE HAS BEEN THERE BEFORE AND CAN SHOW YOU THE ROUTE!
AND BECAUSE I KNOW HE'S A DOPE ADDICT, HE PLANS TO SHOVE ME OUT A DOOR - AS HE DID WITH ANOTHER COPILOT! WHAT I NEED IS A NICE, SAFE JOB ON A SNAKE FARM!

64 Youngsters Operate Same Railroad Layout

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—This is for kids—but don't go away, Pop.

There is a model railroad layout here that can be operated by 64 youngsters at one time. Perfectly scaled passenger and freight trains roar through miniature cities, suburbs and countryside and around snow-covered mountains. Cars are switched, uncoupled and unloaded and bridges lift.

The layout is all automatically operated by junior engineers appropriately clad in blue denim caps and jackets that mark the professional railroader. Their work on diesels and steam, is conducted seriously from behind a maze of 'complex controls.

The system is the idea of FBI-trained Capt. Henry Jensen, upstate director of the New York City Youth League. Jensen, who worked on models in his FBI training, decided youngsters would benefit in straight thinking, careful planning and teamwork by such a railroad plan.

The road is divided into four "tableaus.' Sixteen lads are in charge of each setup, some engineers, some switchmen and others handling machinery and coupling. Jobs are rotated daily so everyone has a chance at each position.

Guilty Persons May Tip Results of Lie Detector

CHICAGO (UP)—Two lie detector experts assert that many guilty persons give themselves away before actually taking the test.

John E. Reid and Fred E. Inbau, authors of a new book on lie detection, said that a guilty person:

Will not volunteer for a lie test. Of 486 verified guilty subjects examined over a five-year period, not one volunteered.

Will try to postpone the test, and appear late for the appointment.

Will insist on explaining that he is nervous and that the test will not come out right.

Will become evasive and refuse to look the examiner in the eye.

But an innocent person will:

Request a test and be eager to take it.

Show extreme confidence in the accuracy of the machine.

Refer to his nervousness, but, after, reassurances, he will usually make no further remarks about it.

Be cooperative but not overly polite.

The grain cradle came into use in America in 1830. It passed from use when the horse-drawn harvester proved more efficient.

McCarthy-Stevens Row Revives Tough Question

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy's treatment of a general did more than get the Wisconsin Republican into a row with Robert T. Stevens, secretary of the Army It helped revive an old question

Should Congress lay down mandatory rules for its committees—which now make their own as they see fit—guaranteeing witnesses who appear before them fair play and more rights than they have now?

Long-Standing Issue

Congress has batted that one around, in one shape or another, for more than 100 years while doing practically nothing about it If the past is any criterion, it won't do much now.

Various committees, including McCarthy's, have rules for procedure and reasonable treatment of witness. Whether they're lived up to depends in each case on the committee members who made them

Last year and early this year members of both houses suggested Congress as a whole tighten up on its committees.

Then, after the McCarthy-Stevens feud erupted a week ago Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) and Sen Lehman (D-Lib-NY) offered a detailed set of rules they call a "code of fair committee procedure." In many ways they'd give a witness the basic rights he gets in court but doesn't have before a committee

Policy Committee Alarmed

Then the Republican family dispute between McCarthy and the Eisenhower administration got so much public attention it worried the Senate a Republican Policy Committee

This group which sets Republican Senate strategy, unanimously decided it was time to look into the possibility of changing the rules for investigating committees President Eisenhower was reported anxious to see a tightening up

Rep. Javits (R-NY) proposed a single committee of House and Senate members to do all Congress' Communist hunting

Such a joint arrangement would mean abolishing the House Un-American Activities Committee, headed by Rep Velde (R-Ill), the Senate's internal security subcommittee, headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) and taking such responsibility from McCarthy's subcommittee.

Arguments Summed Up

The arguments on both sides might be boiled down this way.

1 A congressional investigating committee, sometimes in a hurry, can't be bound down by the procedures of a court. Besides, a witness before a committee is not on trial. Sen. Mundt (R-SD), for example, said over the weekend court rules for an investigating committee would hamstring it.

2 But—a witness before an investigating committee is so much at the members' mercy that he can be just as thoroughly ruined as if tried and convicted in court, but without full court protection Therefore, he needs such prptection.

The changes proposed in the past week vary widely and overlap in some cases

McCarthy, because other members of his committee did not show up, has been able to conduct one-man investigations. Eisenhower was said to want other members, particularly Republicans, present in the future McCarthy has said it isn't his fault if other members don't show up

Right to Counsel

The President reportedly wants a witness to have the right to counsel in fact as well as theory In the disputed Army case, McCarthy ordered the Army's legal counsel out of the room

Javits, Morse and Lehman urge that a witness hit by adverse testimony, should have the right to cross-examine the accusing witness, a right he doesn't have now but would have in a court trial

Javits would let a witness, whose reputation is at stake, decide whether his hearing would be televised Further, under his plan, no committee member could release information from the files without approval by a majority of the committee

McCarthy has often questioned witnesses behind closed doors and then given newsmen such information as he chose Morse and Lehman would prevent that by requiring a majority vote of the committee before such information can be released

Now a witness can be forced to answer questions only, without a chance to put a full statement of his case in the record Javits would see that he could do this as a right

A defendant in a court trial has a right to counsel, and his lawyer can cross-examine witnesses and can call his own At a committee hearing a witness is entitled to a lawyer only Morse and Lehman would give him other rights

Coliseum Loan Okayed By Agriculture Society

Authorization for a $10,000 loan negotiated by the coliseum board of governors was granted by the Marion County Agriculture Society, Frank Foster, manager, said today.

This was to correct an earlier statement by coliseum officials that the loan as well as the contract with the Ohio Sports Concession Co for eventual purchase of the ice-making machinery, had been approved by county commissioners Approval of the commissioners wasn't required

The coliseum board is composed of one county commissioner Ray Reidenbaugh, the president and treasurer of the fair board Don Clements and Clyde Hinamon and two other members of the fair board, Joe Vogel and Victor Kreis These five members in turn elect two members at large They are Robert White and Clifford Smith.

Income Tax Office Schedules Extra Hours; Deadline Nears

Income taxpayers in and around Marion will be given extra hours of assistance in filling out their 1953 returns at the local Internal Revenue Service office at 148 W Center St, Room 7

J H Sells, agent in charge, announced today that the office will be open from 8 a m to 1 p m Saturday March 6 and from 8 a m to 5 p m Saturday, March 13

The office normally is open only five days a week from 8 a m to 5 p m, he explained. Income tax filing deadline is March 15

During the special Saturday hours three agents will be on hand to assist taxpayers preparing their returns

All taxpayers seeking assistance at revenue service offices should bring with them all Form W-2 s together with all records of income and business expenses, bureau officials point out

Taxpayers, especially those with rental or busines incomes, can also facilitate the filing of their returns if they bring their duplicate copy of last year's tax return

Sells urged taxpayers to file their returns as soon as possible to avoid the last-minute rush.

Reader's Digest Reports:
ONLY NEW
COLGATE DENTAL CREAM
with Miracle Anti-Enzyme Ingredient GARDOL*
HAS THE CLINICAL PROOF!
(Proof that Brings New Hope to Millions for LIFETIME PROTECTION AGAINST TOOTH DECAY)

5 QUICK FACTS FROM THE READER'S DIGEST ARTICLE
"What About Anti-Enzyme Toothpastes?" December, 1953

1. Reader's Digest says—The most effective anti-enzyme toothpaste ingredient tested was developed in the Colgate laboratories.
(It's Colgate's miracle ingredient Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate)—found in no other leading toothpaste!
2. Reader's Digest says—One of the foremost dental authorities in the world proved that this ingredient binds itself effectively to the teeth—holds acid formation below the decay level in 95 per cent of cases tested.
(Unlike ordinary toothpaste ingredients, effective only for minutes, this protection won't rinse off—won't wear off—all day or all night!
3. Reader's Digest says—Even 12 hours after brushing, this new Colgate anti-enzyme discovery continues to guard against the enzymes that cause tooth decay.
(Thus, regular morning and night use guards against decay-causing enzymes every minute of the day and night!
4. Reader's Digest says—In full-year clinical tests, supervised by leading dental authorities—4 out of 5 of the people who used New Colgate's with Gardol developed no new cavities at all!
(Distinguished dentists examined this evidence and agreed—New Colgate's with Gardol gives the surest protection against decay ever offered by any toothpaste!
5. Reader's Digest says—New Colgate Dental Cream is the only toothpaste with clinical proof of its effectiveness in actually reducing the formation of new cavities.

NOW! NEW COLGATE DENTAL CREAM CONTAINS GARDOL (*SODIUM N-LAUROYL SARCOSINATE)

News of Servicemen

Navy Ens. William G. Walston of near Marion is serving aboard the USS LST 1077 now operating in the Far East on its third tour of duty. He is an engineering officer aboard the ship which transports supplies, cargo and troops in support of United Nations forces in Korea.

Ens. Walston

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Goebel Walston of near Marion and husband of Mrs. Edna Walston of Cleveland, he attended Officers Candidate School at Newport, R.I., where he received his commission, and was stationed at San Diego, Calif., prior to reporting aboard the LST.

A graduate of St. Mary High School and John Carroll University in 1951, where he was a pre-med student and, in the ROTC program, he entered the Navy in February, 1953.

His wife, the former Miss Edna R. Fossa, and seven-months old daughter, Gale Marlene, are residing in Cleveland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Fararri.

Pfc. Myron D. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Campbell of near Bucyrus, is serving with the 40th Infantry Division which was recently awarded the Republic of Korea Presidential Unit Citation in Korea for its defense of Heartbreak Ridge, the Punch Bowl and other great battles of the conflict. A cook in Cmpany D of the 224th Regiment, Campbell entered the Army in November, 1952, and arrived in Korea last May.

—:—

Airman 1c Robert Gene Young was recently promoted to his present rank acording to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Young of Richwood. He is a IBM operator at Newark, N.J. Prior to entering the service on Nov., 1951, he was employed at the Marion Engineer Depot.

Taxpayer Fights Horse And Buggy Parking Lot

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Court has granted a temporary injunction to prevent the village of Sugarcreek from building a parking lot for horses and buggies.

The village wants the lot for members of the Amish sect, who frown on automobiles. Parking of the Amish buggies on the streets creates a traffic hazard, village officials contend.

But Robert E. Rees, who obtained the injunction and owns property next to the lot's proposed site, has other ideas. He says it would cause a barnyard atmosphere and be a health menace.

REVIVAL TO CONTINUE

Revival services in progress at the Summersville Friends Church in Union County will continue through Sunday with Rev. Owen Glassburn of Damascus, O., as evangelist. Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Gramms of North Lewisburg are the song evangelists. The nightly services are at 7:45.

2 Texans Pay $115,000 For Half Interest in Bull

MADISON, Kan. (AP)—Two Texans bought a half interest in an Aberdeen-Angus bull for $115,000—a record price for a bull of any breed.

Bedford Wynne, Dallas, and Bill Byers, Tyler, Tex., bought the interest in 5-year-old Prince 105 of TT from the Simon Angus farm for breeding purposes.

Urbin Simon and John Simon, operators of the farm, said last night the previous record price was $105,000 paid by the McCormick Farms of Illinois to Ralph Smith of Chillicothe, Mo., for a half interest in McLarry Domino 12th a Hereford.

Plagiarism Suit Against Hollywood Studio Settled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The plagiarism suit of Ferenc Herczeg against MGM studio for $20,000 has been settled out of court. Herczeg, Hungarian playwright, charged a 1942 movie, "Seven Sweethearts," was based on "Seven Sisters," a play he wrote in 1903.

The settlement was announced yesterday when the case was called for trial, but the amount of it was not disclosed.

Oppose Parking Meters

ROCKPORT, Mass. (AP) — Town meeting members of this famed art center are against having parking meters in front of the Congregational meeting house.

They told the town fathers the meters would ruin photographers' chances for good pictures.

The selectmen assured upset members that "aesthetic senses will be respected."

Looking for Meat Substitute? Serve Scampi

Shrimp, one of America's favorite shellfish, is good fresh, frozen or canned.

Don't let Lent pass by without serving Scampi at least once. Use a garlic butter sauce, pour it over the shrimp and place them under a broiler. To obtain just the right taste, follow these directions.

2 pounds unshucked shrimp fresh or frozen
¼ pound butter or margarine
1 clove garlic, minced fine
Salt to taste
Pepper to taste

Remove shells from shrimp, except portion which covers tail. Cut down center of back and remove sand vein. Melt butter and add garlic. Simmer 3 minutes. Place shrimp on individual flame-proof platters, or large broiling pan. Pour garlic butter over them. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place in preheated broiler 3" from heat and broil 5 to 7 minutes or until browned and tender. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

NEW BIDS PLANNED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Highway Director Samuel O. Linzell says new bids will be taken on two projects on which bids were over state estimates. They are for improving one-half mile of Ohio 4 in Mad River Twp. (Montgomery County) and planting trees and shrubs along 3.3 miles of U.S. 22 in Union Twp. (Muskingum County).

Humorist Slated To Talk Friday to Executives' Club

Humorist Ed Harding will be guest speaker at the next meeting of the Marion Executives' Club to be held at 6:30 p.m. Firday at the Harding Hotel.

Harley G. Roby, club president, said Harding is considered one of the top-notch humorists and public speakers in the nation. "Cousin Ed" Harding is often referred to as the doctor of laughter.

Called "comfortably rotund," Harding is reported to be a cheerful person who likes nothing better than to see others enjoy themselves. Fitting his talk to the occasion, he often abandons prepared notes and talks "ad lib," according to his agent.

A resident of Washington, N. C., Harding is a former fertilizer manufacturer and has since turned to traveling, writing — sometimes as a newspaper man, and dabbles in writing of poetry.

He is a member of the Rotary Club in his home town and once was district governor of the organization.

Speaking of his own after-dinner talks, Harding says his chatter is pure escapism in its simplest form and adds, "There ain't an earth-shaking problem in a car-load of it."

DIES IN CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Samuel Schlup, 65, former Guernsey County probate judge and relief director, died here yesterday.

One time in a million
one punch drops two!
Denver, Colo., Dec. 17, 1919—A paralyzing 2-in-1 blow by Sam Langford came in the 2nd round of his fight with Kid Norfolk. Out of a clinch Sam swung just as referee Abe Pollock stepped in to break them. Glancing off the referee's face, this monumental punch landed flush on Norfolk's jaw. Both dropped—out cold. This could happen once in a million times—maybe. But something happens—something good—every time in the brewing of Wiedemann's Fine Beer. It's always brewed the same . . .

EVERY TIME...brewed with the same magnificent flavor!

IT'S REGISTERED

Order Wiedemann's with complete confidence. You know it's brewed right because It's Registered. The official registration number appears on every Wiedemann label.

Wiedemann's Fine Beer has to be brewed with the same fine quality every time, to be registered. Count on Borden's Cottage Cheese for Your Lenten meals!

Rich in proteins and minerals, good Cottage Cheese is a wonderful Lenten food! It takes the place of meat perfectly in the diet. And it can be served in so many appetizing ways—in quickly prepared salads, for instance . . . or in tasty satisfying sandwiches. If you're not acquainted with the superior freshness and flavor of Borden's Cottage Cheese, now's the time to give it a try. And the children will love making Easter Baskets from the cartons.

Use the cartons to make clever Easter Baskets

Cut strips of cardboard ½ inch wide and 12 inches long. Decorate these by painting, or covering with colored Scotch Tape. Attach by stapling or stitching with strong thread. Or cut narrow strips of paper, color, and braid into 12-inch handles. Another idea; you can use long pipe cleaners, white or colored. Punch holes in the sides of the carton where indicated, and attach cleaners by bending the ends. Fill with decorated hard-boiled eggs or with colored candy eggs!

These cartons come in four color combinations. Be sure you get a complete set!

'Theft' of Auto Just a Case of Wrong Identity

Reported theft of a car parked on N. Main St. Sunday night containing some $3,000 worth of band instruments and clothes turned out happily yesterday for the owner. Keith Klemme of Toledo, but left a Marion garage owner somewhat redfaced.

As reported by police, it was all because of "mistaken identity" on the part of a tow truck driver for the Smith Motor Sales garage.

Sometime early yesterday morning, the owner of a Packard car went to the garage with his car keys and said the clutch was out and would they tow it in and fix it. The car was parked on N. Main St., he told the garageman.

Going to N. Main St. the tow truck driver spied such a car, found the keys left at the garage would unlock the door and assumed this was the car with the bad clutch.

It wasn't until several hours later, just before 1 p.m. that workmen at the garage began to wonder if this was the right car when they found that the keys wouldn't fit the ignition switch even though they did unlock the doors. They also wondered about the load of clothing and band instruments in the back of the car

On checking with police garagemen found they did have the wrong car. Klemme was immediately contacted and soon reclaimed his car.

Later the garage picked up the right car and fixed it.

The mistake resulted because both cars were covered with a blanket of snow.

AUTO MISTAKE
HASTINGS, Mich. (UP) — A garage mechanic complied with an order to pick up a 1953 car and install a new windshield. Police later received a stolen car report The mechanic had picked up an identical 1953 model with a broken windshield, but it was the wrong car.

The natural colors of cotton are brown, green, cream and white.

Tiny Magnet Developed To Anchor False Teeth

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — False teeth can now be held in place by tiny magnets concealed in the back teeth. Dr. Bruno B. Kielich, Jr. of the Erie County Dental Society, explained here.

Dr. Kielich said four magnets, measuring about one-quarter by one inch, are divided two in the uppers and two in the lowers. He said the device, developed by the General Electric Co, are arranged so as to repel each other and will prevent loose movement of the dental plates.

FAST PIE
TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—Mrs. Helen Porter baked a trans - Atlantic pecan pie for her Air Force captain-husband The pie was flown by jet from MacDill Field here to Brize Norton Field in Britain where Capt. George E. Porter got it still warm from the oven.

WAR BY-PRODUCT
WASHINGTON (UP)—Research by the Army Chemical Corps during World War II led to commercial production of sprays and fogs now used to kill broadleaf weeds without damaging crops.

13 Enlistments Reported Here

WAF, Air Force, Army Gain Recruits

One woman and 12 men enlisted in the U. S. Army and Air Force through the local recruiting station during the last two weeks of February, S-Sgt. James LeRow reported today.

Enlisting in the Women's Air Force and sent to Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, to begin her training was Roberta Louise Selanders of Delaware.

Sent to Ft. Knox, Ky., after enlisting in the Army, were Richard D. Smith of 271 Nye St., Daniel L. Johnson of near Marion, and Jimmie Dixon of Sunbury.

The following men enlisted in the Air Force and were sent to Sampson Air Force Base in Geneva, N. Y., for training; John W. Huggins and Jack L. Green of near Marion, Gavin T. Kimmerly of 190 N. Seffner Ave., Robert W. Secord and George R. Harp, both of Kenton, LeRoy Rigsby of near Forest, and Frank Hyden, John Hyden and Robert Williams, all of Bucyrus.

Jet Plane May Break Barrier While in Climb

PARIS (UP) — A man who learned engineering at night school hopes his revolutionary stove-pipe jet will break the sound barrier while climbing when it starts flying in 1955.

Andre Leduc, 55, if a self-made man. He went to night school because he had to start working early to help his family.

He became an artillery officer during World War I, volunteering at the age of 18. After the war he took up electrical engineering and began working at the Louis Breguet airplane factories.

During his free hours, Leduc worked on the problem of plane propulsion and was made a Doctor of Science in 1927.

He then published articles explaining that engine - propelled planes would find their top speed around 500 MPH but turbo - jets could reach a higher ceiling.

Leduc studied rockets awhile but gave that up because he said fuel consumption was too high and would bar normal uses.

In 1937 Leduc already had his revolutionary heat - propelled jet engine which during ground trials showed enough power to break the sound barrier. French officials were enthusiastic about it.

During the World War II occupation, Leduc managed to keep his engine plans out of German hands. His factory was bombed out and he had to start all over again after the war.

His first plane, destroyed during the war, was replaced by one that showed its possibilities in 1949 when it climbed 50 feet per second.

The "021" model that followed was flown by two test pilots, Jean Sarrail and Ivan Littoff. Its jet is made of seven successive compartments the diameter of each one increasing consecutively.

lines of burners, but only two lines of burners! but only two lines of the first six chambers were lighted during trials to reduce speed. The plane then climbed at 66 feet per second.

Now an "022" is in preparation and may start flying in 1955. It will probably have a jet-assisted takeoff. The first model had to start from the back of another plane.

"This new model will easily break the sound barrier while climbing," Leduc said, "as its thrust co-efficient is expected to be between 10 and 11. The thrust co-efficient on the original model was 2.7 and 5.7 on the '021.' ".

The plane seems to have only one engine. Its stove - pipe jet holds the plane's center, with the gasoline tanks hidden in its short wings. The pilot will be seated low in the plastic nose of the plane which comes out automatically when on the ground.

A special optical system with a lens on top of the plastic body enables the pilot to see. In case of accident he is automatically ejected from the plane in this plastic shell, and parachutes bring him down slowly.

Leduc's "strato-reactor," with its simple system of air entering through the plane's nose and leaving — after burning fuel in the seven successive compartments — from the plane's tail is regarded by French experts as the "most logical" propulsion of the future."

Car Owners Jam Auto License Office

LICENSE PLATES GO ON SALE. Braving Marion's heaviest snowfall of the year, local car owners line up outside the crowded Auto License Bureau on Court St. as the sale of 1954 plates began. Despite the snowy weather, the bureau was packed all day long Monday. The plates, maroon background with white letters, will be on sale through March 31.

Services for Holy Week, Good Friday Planned by Local Group

Union services for Holy Week and Good Friday were planned by the Marion County Ministerial Association Monday at the YMCA.

Capt. Mary Nisiewicz of the Salvation Army told of her trip last fall to England and Europe.

The opening devotions were by Rev. James Calhoun from the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, Ill., who is conducting evangelistic services at the Green Camp Baptist Church.

Noonday services during Holy Week will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, according to plans reported by Rev. J. Paul Goebel. The annual three - hour Good Friday service sponsored by the association will be held at First Presbyterian Church from noon until 3 p.m., April 16.

Recommendations of the social action committee adopted by the association had to do with the observance of Good Friday. The request will be made of all churches that their doors be opened early that day to enable workmen to worship before they go to their jobs, also that the doors of the churches remain open throughout the day to permit anyone wishing to do so to enter for prayer at any time.

Pastors will be asked to urge their people to attend the union service at the Presyberian Church on Good Friday.

Commendation was given businessmen who give their employes time off to attend the special service either for all or a part of the three hours during which the Good Friday service is held. The report for the committee was made by Rev. W. C. Eyster, the chairman.

Members voted to invite all retired ministers of the community to become honorary members of the association and to attend the meetings the first Monday of each month at the YMCA.

Courtin' Time Favored By Oregon Commission

SALEM, Ore. (UP)—Courtship is reason enough for a girl to quit her job, says the Oregon unemployment compensation commission.

An engaged girl resigned her hospital post because her irregular hours didn't give her enough time to see her fiance. The commission held that she quite her job for a good reason and was entitled to unemployment compensation. It observed:

"Any young woman is ordinarily entitled to reasonable opportunity to be properly courted during the engagement period."

Cardington Group To Ask Ohio Board About Sewage Plan

CARDINGTON — Council here Monday night authorized the clerk to contact the Ohio Water Pollution Board at Columbus to find out what the village's next step in the controversial sewage issue will be.

Cardington voters, in a special election last month, turned down a referendum issue which would have provided $300,000 for the construction and operation of a sanitary sewage system and disposal plant. The Council had been told a year and a half ago by the state board that a system would have to be installed. A year's extension was granted and later a six-month extension. The state board had set June 30 as a deadline for compliance with the order. After that date, the board can impose a $500 a day fine. Cardington Mayor Don Healea said the state board will be contacted sometime this week to see just what the village can do now.

Council also authorized the clerk, Guy Mathews, to write a letter to the State Highway Department, Columbus, to see what can be done about widening W. Main St., or State Route 42.

In the mayor's monthly report, it was learned that 34 court cases had been heard during February. The village's share of the fines amounted to $431.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Horsepower Costs Set At 34 Cents Per Hour

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Cornell University agricultural economists have figured out that one horsepower costs 34 cents an hour.

The figure is based on cost account records kept on 17 horses in use on upstate New York farms.

The professors found it costs $141 to keep a horse fed, stabled and harnessed. Much of the money goes for feed. The average horse, figures showed, eats 528 pounds of grain a year.

They found a horse costing $141 a year to maintain is used only 424 hours a year. That figures out to 34 cents an hour.

Native Music Of Australians Most Primitive

SYDNEY, Australia (UP)—The primitive music of the Australian aborigine may provide the key to the secret of the beginning of all music, in the opinion of A. P. Elkin, professor of anthropology at Sydney University.

Elkin has made two expeditions into the heart of Arnhem Land. On his second trip he recorded secret religious songs heard before by very few white men. Usually only the elders of the tribe are allowed to hear them.

"The music of the Australian aborigines is completely different from any other music within my experience and is probably more primitive than any other in the world," Elkin said.

"It is quite unharmonic. Any attempt at singing in harmony has been exceptional. There is no attempt at counterpoint. Most group singing is in strict unison.

"The music, of course, does not conform to the European scale of notes. That is what makes it seem strange to ears accustomed only to music based on our own scale.

"But the most outstanding characteristic of this aboriginal music is its rhythm.

"Not only is the singing itself rhythmic, but it is accompanied by a variety of percussion instruments, such as two sticks beaten together or the rattling of boomerangs. The aborigines have no drums, but when a particular type of wood is hit it gives out a hollow, gong-like sound.

"Even the didjeridoo, the only melodic instrument the aborigines have, is played more in a rhythmic than a melodic manner. It is a long, hollow wind instrument that has only two notes. Different didjeridoos play different notes.

"The aborigines use their musical instruments mainly to accompany their singing. Only occasionally do they play them by themselves.

"As in most primitive societies, all their music is mainly an accompaniment to dancing. The stamping of the dancers' feet and the beating and stamping of the watchers give the singing a very rhythmic base.

"There are three types of Australian aboriginal music—secret, sacred and secular.

"Some of the secret music is very like Middle Age and Byzantine chanting. The aborigines create a very intense religious atmosphere that is very different from their public chanting.

"Sacred music, which can be performed in public, does not have the same swing and rhythm as the secret chanting. It is more melodic and more like the hymns and psalms of Western music.

"The secular music has an even greater melodic range and is very rhythmic. It consists of both group and solo singing. Some secular singing is very melodic, although further to the west of Arnhem Land it is characterized by a repeated descent from a higher to a lower note."

Pictorial Highlights of Shooting From Gallery at Capitol

TERRORISTS INVADE HOUSE. At 2:30 p.m. yesterday, three fanatical Puerto Rican terrorists, two men and a woman, were nabbed by Washington police after they opened fire from the gallery during a session of the House of Representatives. Five congressmen were wounded in the volleys.

UPPER LEFT: Just a few moments after the mass shooting, the floor of the House of Representatives was a scene of fear and confusion as House members discuss the massacre attempt by Puerto Rican terrorists. Note the empty galleries where, just minutes before, two men and a woman pumped bullets onto the floor of the House.

UPPER RIGHT: Reps. Clifford Davis (D) of Tennessee, 56 (left) and Ben Jensen (R) of Iowa, 61, are confined to Bethesda Naval medical center after they were wounded. Davis, with a leg wound, is in good condition, but Jensen's condition is serious.

LOWER LEFT. Police guard surrounds the hospital rooms of Reps. Alvin Bentley (R) of Michigan, and Kenneth Roberts (D) of Alabama, both wounded in the shooting fray. Bentley, 35, is feared near death. He underwent delicate surgery at Washington's Casualty hospital. His liver and stomach were pierced by bullets. Roberts is out of danger.

LOWER RIGHT: Rep. Roberts is carried from the Capitol on a stretcher after being shot. Note face of Roberts below sleeve of man wearing trench coat (center).

LaRue Council Approves Fire Fighters' Plan

LaRue's village Council voted Monday night at its regular meeting to remodel the Town Hall for better housing of fire department equipment.

Three representatives of the village's volunteer fire department, Harold Surber, chief, Robert Cook, assistant chief, and Jackie Davis, discussed the proposed remodeling program with Council members. Council then okayed plans to go ahead with the expansion and remodeling as soon as possible.

The facelifting program at the Town Hall will include adding the space in the building formerly used for storage by the Ford Furniture store, remodeling the front of the department and building a new runway for the fire trucks.

Members of the fire department will do actual remodeling and money for the project will come from the fire department fund. Council agreed to furnish cement for the runway in the department and to buy supplies for the firefighters, such as hose.

Firemen also suggested other methods of raising money for the department and decided that they will sponsor a carnival or similar program sometime near Memorial Day.

The expansion program was necessitated, according to Mrs. Estele Armstrong, village mayor, by the recent addition of a third fire truck to the department. The truck which was purchased by township trustees and the volunteer department has an auxiliary water tank with a capacity of over 900 gallons. The department also has two other trucks, one owned by the Bowling Green Township trustees and the other by Montgomery trustees, housed in the present space.

Council also voted down a request for pinball machines in the village.

IT'S COLD OUTSIDE

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Samuel Berman, 57, explained to police that he wasn't perturbed when a gust of wind slammed the door shut on the refrigerator compartment of his meat delivery truck, locking him in with the key in his pocket. It was bitter cold outside, so the refrigerator cooling system wasn't turned on. Hence, Berman, with plenty of sandwich meats at his dispoal was more comfortable in the refrigerator than he would have been outside. A passerby heard him kicking and shouting and notified police. Berman passed out the key and the police opened the door.

City Pays Owner $31.45 In Death of Pet Rabbit

CONCORD, N. H. (UP)—Roger M. Bailey got $31.45 from the city for his rabbit.

A dog killed Bailey's rabbit. He brought claim to the city for damages.

A month later, City Solicitor Gordon M. Tiffany told the City Council that it must, according to state law, honor "a valid claim" for domestic animals killed by dogs, even if the dog's owner isn't known.

Tiffany acknowledged $31.45 as a valid claim. The council voted to pay Bailey. And the group also told Tiffany to do all in his legal power to get the $31.45 back from Gustav Swenson He owned the dog.

CUB SCOUT DINNER HELD

Rose corsages were presented to den mothers at the blue and gold banquet of Cub Scout Pack, 12, held Thursday night at Glenwood School. A service pin was given to Mrs. June Johnson. Other awards went to Lester Stone, Bobby Wilson, Harrold Wilson, Jack Brumfield, Jimmy Johnson, Steve McGowan and Larry Richendollar.

City Solicitor Gets Latin Lessons in Courtroom

CONCORD, N. H. (UP)—At least City Solicitor Gordon M. Tiffany brushed up on his latin the day Thomas E. Tefft was in court charged with not paying a $2 poll tax in 1941.

Tefft contended he paid the $2, but he couldn't locate the 12-year-old receipt. Tiffany brought him into small claims court where Tefft said he couldn't be sued because of the six-year statute of limitations.

Tiffany came up with a brief which said. "Nullun tempus occurrit regis," or, "Time doesn't run against the crown"—the Concord tax collector, in this instance.

The court ruled "nihil"—nothing—for the city on the grounds that the limitations statue applied.

Truck, Snowplow Collide in Morrow

A semi-trailer truck sideswiped a state highway truck equipped with a snowplow last night in Morrow County, the Marion post of the state highway patrol reported today.

The mishap occurred three-tenths of a mile south of Fulton on Route 61 at 5 p.m. The trailer truck was driven by Stewart Spencer, 30, of Buffalo, N. Y., and the highway truck by Amza Boyer, 71, of Mt. Gilead. No injuries were reported. Damage was minor.

More Pay for Congressmen

If members of the House of Representatives wait for the Senate to start action on a proposed pay increase, and members of the Senate wait for the House, there will be no increase this year.

Although there is a strong case for boosting congressional salaries to $27,500, which is the most attractive recommendation, the fact is there has been a gross error in timing as far as doing anything this year is concerned.

The time for congressmen to raise their own pay is early in the first session of the Congress to which they have been elected the preceding November.

They should avoid the years of congressional elections.

They should avoid situations in which one party will be blamed by members of the other party for frittering away the people's hard-earned money.

They should avoid situations in which events have made many millions of Americans wish fervently for a higher type of congressional representation.

They should avoid situations which made taxpayers feel that higher salaries for congressmen would be contrary to the trend of compensation for productive work.

It's because they're avoiding these situations that representatives and senators are hanging back and waiting for someone else to make the first move in 1954.

Chances are there will be no pay increase this year. The timing is off.

France Has Troubles Too

The senators of both parties who now are telling the Eisenhower administration it must take responsibility for letting Indochina get into the subject matter when the Big Four meets in Geneva, are doing their duty.

They are trying to make certain this country is not dragged into a conflict which they say belongs to the French. "If the political pressures on France are such that she felt the necessity of exploring the ending of hostilities in Indochina she could have explored that labyrinth on her own responsibility," declared Sen. Knowland after the agenda of the Geneva conference had been announced.

The point is well made. But it does no harm to acknowledge that France has troubles, too. One of them is a costly war in Indochina which the French cannot win and do not dare to lose. France needs help.

The war in Indochina is inextricably tied into the Communist conspiracy's ambitious program for dominating Asia. It is a first cousin to a war in Korea—a war in which the United States also needed help and could have used much more than it was given by other members of the United Nations.

The French have had no official help from the United Nations in Indochina. That is an additional reason for wanting to settle the war by some kind of an agreement with the Communists who started it and are keeping it going. These are the same people who started the war in Korea and kept it going. It is the same war, with France on the receiving end, and the French cannot afford to fight it alone.

France cannot be blamed too harshly, therefore, for thinking Indochina is just as much a part of the Asiatic contest for power as Korea. The only important difference is that France is being told by the Communists in Indochina to get out of an area it once controlled whereas the United States and the United Nations were told in Korea they had no right to come to the rescue of native Asiatics.

Why the Dean Was Gloomy

If the "gloomy Dean" of St. Paul's had lived until next June he would have been 94 years old. There is surely special significance in the fact his worldwide fame as a purveyor of gloom had not kept the Very Rev. Sir William R. Inge from being one of the gentlest and sweetest of patriarchs.

His gloominess was of that special brand which cannot be told from the unvarnished truth. He earned and kept his reputation with some of the most powerful sermons ever preached in England — sermons in which he sorrowed publicly for the shortcomings and perversities of his fellowmen while urging them to improve themselves.

Hearing so many blunt truths about themselves, the Dean's listeners believed he was a pessimist. But he really was an optimist. He believed in the improvability of mankind. He doubted if mankind would do anything about it unless their gross faults were revealed—so he revealed them.

He began to do this in 1911 and never tired. He became a national institution, to a degree that almost will make it necessary for Englishmen to appoint a successor to do the same thing.

The truth, especially if it's on the gloomy side, is the rarest commodity in modern civilization — worth its weight in dark despair.

Courage or Cowardice

By David Lawrence

Confidence Can Be Built Only on Sound Dollar

There are lots of things worse for the Republican party than losing an election next autumn. One is to let the American people lose confidence in the dollar.

This could result from an abandonment of sound economic policies by the Republican party and a display of political cowardice in the face of minority pressures.

If the Republican party in Congress which has proclaimed itself as the party of "sound money" now yeilds to expediency and votes to cut off 15,000,000 persons from the payment of all income taxes and imitates the Democratic party, which has for many years kept the budget unbalanced by spending billions for political purposes, the American people will lose faith in both parties and come to believe there is no hope hereafter of maintaining the integrity of their monetary unit.

When a people lose faith in their monetary unit it is the same thing as a run on a bank. Loss of confidence and panic ensue. Prices rise precipitately, savings are wiped out, and the currency eventually isn't worth the paper it is printed on.

This is what happened in Germany in 1923 when a mark, previously worth 20 cents, became virtually worthless. It took a million marks to get a taxicab to go a mile.

THE BANKRUPTCY of the central government causing the loss of private property to the citizens in this panic helped to condition Germany for Hitler's Fascism.

When the Republican party took over in Washington on January 20, 1953, the businessmen of America felt that at last an administration had been inaugurated which would balance the budget and assure the people that the savings bonds they own would be redeemed with dollars that would buy at least as much as they did on the day the bonds were bought.

Today the government's ability to borrow money to meet a deficit when the budget is unbalanced rests solely on the confidence of the people that the dollar invested in government bonds will be worth a dollar later on.

If the people come to the conclusion that it isn't worth buying government bonds becaue these will purchase less and less goods in subsequent months, a panic and deep depression may come sooner than is realized by the politicians who today are openly urging that the budget shall be unbalanced by many billions of dollars a year in what is often called by the high-sounding name — "deficit financing."

The issue is easy to understand. The federal budget after many years of deficits has at last been brought into approximate balance.

The cash to be collected is estimated to exceed the expenditures of government for the coming fiscal year. When this was announced recently it created a climate of confidence in the American dollar all over the world.

Then the "prophets of gloom" got busy. From Democratic party spokesmen, anxious to discredit the Republican administration, came statements that a "recession" and perhaps a "depression" was in prospect.

It is true a business readjustment has been in progress but this happened also in 1949 and the Democratic party did not then cry out for a cut in the tax rolls and a bigger and bigger deficit.

In fact, President Truman at that time insisted that taxes be raised.

Today, because it may seem "politically popular," some proposals have been made by prominent Democrats in Congress which if adopted would mean that upwards of 15,000,000 persons would be free from federal income tax payments altogether. Thus by raising the present tax exemption by $400, a married man with three children who earns up to $5,000 a year would pay no taxes at all.

THIS WOULD be fine if the budget were balanced, but it would cost the treasury 10 billion dollars a year in revenue, while the tax saving to the $5,000 man would be less than six dollars a week.

It would appear on its face to be a good vote-getting program but it ignores the resentment of the other taxpayers — some 32,000,000 —who would feel discriminated against because they would be expected to pay the whole burden of the income tax.

Why shouldn't every citizen pay at least one to six dollars a week in taxes to support the government, and especially for national defense?

There is no advantage in a tax exemption if an individual has no earnings because of cintinued unemployment.

The theory that, by increasing the tax exemptions, a business revival will thereby be produced, has been proved false. All during the 1930's the New Deal tried the same formula. It sought to increase purchasing power by WPA "leaf-raking" projects.

The expenditure of government money temporarily helped the sale of some consumer goods but it didn't create lasting jobs. Even by 1939, when World War II broke out, there were still 9,000,000 persons unemployed — a cut of only 3,000,000 from the 1933 average.

IT TOOK a war to bring jobs. Full employment came only when armament —heavy industry —was stimulated.

Nobody wants a war and America ought to be able to achieve a sound economy without a war.

The treasury has proposed a tax revision plan to Congress which will stimulate heavy industries by encouraging capital investment in new plants and equipment, so as to replace worn-out tools. Such a program would bring prices down and cause the dollar to buy more. At the same time more and more jobs for the unemployed would be created by industrial expansion.

There's a sound and an unsound way to handle the tax program. One leads to a strong and healthy economy and the other leads to panic and disaster.

It's a choice between political cowardice and political courage.

Honest Confessions

By TRUMAN TWILL

Nothing tickles me so much as seeing a glib TV pitch artist make a boo-boo, like the one recently when the photogenic dolly couldn't tug open the door of the refrigerator she was showing off.

On the rare occasions when I write a check for anything over a few dollars, I always must ask someone how to write in the big figures.

Whenever I hear voices raised in anger I break into a hot flush of shared excitement over the fracas which has caused the participants to be making fools of themselves.

No type of communication flatters me so much as a note which assumes that I share the writer's special interest in something like birds, philosophy or fine writing. I resent having to choose a necktie from the rack each morning and once substituted four knit ties —brown, green, blue and maroon —for all the flowered, patterned ties in my possession.

Anything unusual about the weather, such as strong winds, Heavy downpours, prolonged drouths and deep snow, has the same effect on me as the coming hurricane has on barnyard animals; I huddle in fear.

Having seen every act of foolishness committed on highways that the fertile mind of men can conceive, I will bet 100 to 1 the accident rate could be reduced to the disappearing point if everybody would stay under 50 miles an hour and stay in line.

Whenever people begin to wonder what they would do if they quit working I gape in amazement because my schedule is filled for the first 35 years after retirement with such time-killers as reading the books I've never had time to read and learning to play the piano. After reaching 100, I intend to live abroad until I am 150, then come home to sit by the fire and Wait for Lefty.

Every time I run across anyone who seems to be living as if he were going to have a second chance, I have to stifle the impulse to tip him off.

The messy business of spreading jelly and preserves on bread has no appeal for me and is at best only an arbitrary custom. I prefer to eat the bread unadorned if it's worth eating, and eat the jelly as part of my meal.

Once a year when the gent who handles the insurance on the Twillery rolling stock comes around to discuss renewals on personal and property liability, deductible collision, coverage for children driving other people's cars, hospital benefits, theft, fire and tornado damage etc. I feel down in the mouth for days. Life insurance salesmen can make me clam up for weeks.

I think nine out of ten of all human beings ordinarily encountered are desperate for a chance to romp and play and frequently conceal this by pretending to be gruff and busy with momentous matters.

Every trip through a residential neighborhood at dusk, with lights coming on and the sight of people sitting at dining tables makes me wonder whether the meals they are having are better, worse, or about to eat. When entertainers put on a good show I would like to have a chance to thank them afterward for a pleasant time and think it would be a good idea to let spectators do this in lieu of the money the professionals and semi-professionals are paid for their performances.

That Guilty Feeling

Taxation Muddle

By Raymond Moley

Dean Manion could not have made clearer the importance of the job from which he was so summarily removed than to quote, as he did in a "Meet the Press" program, something that Dwight D. Eisenhower said in Des Moines during his campaign in 1952. It was this:

"We will see that the legitimate rights of the states and local communities are respected. We will not only stop the taking over of the tax sources of the state, but seek reasonably to return them. We will not reach into the states and take from them their powers and their responsibilities to serve their citizens."

To say that Eisenhower realized the seriousness of the problem of Federal - state relations is not to say that either he or Sherman Adams or, in fact, Dean Manion himself realized the size of the job of the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

Manion warned the President when he was appointed that he could spend only a limited amount of his time on the job. Like a lot of us, Manion had to make a living.

The President, according to Manion, assured him that he need spend only a very few days a month on the work. Then it seems to have been assumed that a report could be prepared between the first meeting of the Commission last September and March 1.

I have written a number of pieces on this subject of the reallocation of tax sources between the federal government and the states, because it seems to be the key to the problem of preserving our Constitutional system and, in fact, our basic liberties.

If we ever have a purely centralized government in this country, it will be a socialist government. For this reason. I have tried to follow the research literature on the subject, and I can offer some evidence on the time and effort that such a study should take.

Shortly after the end of the second World War, the research staff of the National Association of Manufacturers set to work on a study of "The Reallocation of Federal and State Tax Resources and Service Responsibilities."

The study was under the general direction of Dr. Ralph Robey and Dr. Harley Lutz, who had already spent years of their lives on the subject of taxation. They had a large and experienced staff assembled at the NAM. But the job took two solid years before a report was completed in 1949.

On January 5, 1948, the first Hoover Commission asked the Council on State Governments to make a study of federal - state relations.

Frank Bane, executive director of the council, submitted a voluminous report seven months later. Here also, it should be noted, a good research staff was already available.

These two examples show the size of the job which the President took so casually. It may occur to some that since such work has already been done, there would be little need for further research. That is not true, because this problem changes with every year, and five years have elapsed since those studies were completed.

Now, what with the summary dismissal of Manion, the resignation of the executive director of the commission, and the resignation of Congressman Mason, the whole project seems to be wrecked. Incidentally, Mason was the only member of the commission who had ever made a really serious study of the problem.

There were and still are many excellent members of the commission, such as Governor Shivers, ut the only one who had ever made a protracted study of the problem was Mason. And now he is gone.

This whole thing is a matter much more serious than a dispute about the right of Manion or anyone else to freedom of speech. It is the wreckage of a valuable means for the checking of the onrush of centralized government.

No Revolution in NLRB

By DAVID BARNETT

Don't look for a revolution in the administration of the Taft-Hartley Act when the National Labor Relations Board, for the first time in history, has a Republican-appointed majority.

The swearing in of Albert C. Beeson, of California, will put three Eisenhower appointees on the quasi-judicial agency.

But NLRB officials point out that basic changes in interpretation of Taft-Hrtley — even if the board wanted to make them — could not be rammed through quickly because:

1. The board cannot act until there is an appropriate case before it.

2. A decision reversing a previous board ruling certainly would be appealed to the courts and probably would make the long journey to the Supreme Court.

3. Although the board pays less attention to precedent than do regular courts of law, it does give some weight to past NLRB rulings.

NLRB officials said there were 15 cases before the board that could be decided quickly. These are cases in which board members have split 2 and 2.

Beeson could break the tie in each case as soon as he goes on the board.

But, according to board officials, only two issues of any importance are covered in the pending cases:

1. The extent to which the board should exercise its jurisdiction.

2. Secondary boycotts.

Beeson believes the nose of the federal government — and that of the NLRB — should be kept out of as many labor disputes as possible. He, therefore, is expected to favor refusing to take jurisdiction over cases that are essentially local in nature.

A secondary boycott is a device used to attempt to stop an employer from doing business with another employer who is involved in a labor dispute. The Taft-Hartley Act tags the secondary boycott an unfair labor practice, but some Republican congressman contend NLRB rulings have, in effect, repealed this section of the act. The Supreme Court, however, has upheld the NLRB in all of its major secondary boycott decisions.

Beeson, 47, fills the unexpired term of Paul Styles, who resigned effective last September. He joins these two other Eisenhower appointees on the board:

Chairman Guy Farmer, 41, a lawyer who first went to work for the NLRB in 1937. He became associate general counsel in 1943 and left the commission to do private practice in 1945. Farmer describes himself as an independent in politics.

Phillip Ray Rodgers, 37, the only Ph.D. on the board, was staff director of Senator Taft's Senate Labor Committee from 1949 to 1953. He is a Republican.

In 1937 four hotels were operating in Marion for the convenience of the public. At the southwest corner of Main and Mill Streets was the hostelry operated by Edward Kennedy. Half a square south of this was the Byerly Hotel operated by Fred Byerly. This hotel was later operated by Michael Coon, Joseph Stokes and Shaubs and Sands. It was rebuilt by Benjamin Kerns and operated by General Clark who died of cholera in 1854. Then C. B. Mann, Mr. Davis and Philip Loebrich became proprietors in the order named. The building burned while in the possession of Loebrich in 1859.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mr. Dulles in the Alpine Passes

I

(With apologies to Longfellow)
The shades of night were falling fast
As through an Alpine village passed
A man who bore, mid snow and ice,
A banner with the strange device: "Here's hoping."

II

His brow was sad, his eye beneath
Flashed like a falchion from its sheath
His smile seemed strangely for the birds
As from his lips there came the words:
"Keep trying."

III

In happy homes he saw the light
Of household fires gleam warm and bright:
And from his lips escaped a groan: "What's cooking?"

IV

"Try not the pass," the old man said,
"The dark agenda looms ahead:
The Red Routine is deep and wide!"
And loud that clarion voice replied: "I wonder!"

V

"Oh stay," the maiden said. "Please do!
The Senate's closely watching you."
A tear stood in his bright blue eye
But still he answered with a sigh: "Oh, brother!"

VI

"Beware Pan - mun - jom's Alpine branch!
"Beware the wordy avalanche!"
This was the peasant's last good - night;
A voice replied far up the height, "Hold everything."

VII

By any faithful Alpine bound
May no snow-bound man be found
Still grasping in a hand of ice
That banner with the strange device: "They got me!"

Mayor Wagner of Gotham and his whole cabinet will go on a TV quiz program with members of the Citizens' Union firing questions through newspaper editors and publishers. . . . The report the mayor and his cabinet, cast as quiz kids, will don infant wear and go cute is denied. . . . Two chickens have been hatched from one egg in West Haddon, England. . . . This was an egg that was really trying. . . . A Colorada Senator has a bill in Washington to put a limit on how far a brewery-owned baseball club can go in promoting beer sales over the air. . . . We trust nothing will come of it, as baseball and beer have become so closely linked that we want to know at all times under whose beer a player has just stolen second. . . . Speaking of baseball, the new big-league wage-pension plan provides a minimum of $6,000 a year with retirement at 50 on a pension and insurance. . . . Ike Clears Up Confusion Over Lowering Flag

Proclamation Issued Covering How, When Flown at Half Staff

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower issued formal instructions today on when and for how long the flag of the United States should be flown at half staff.

The White House said the President's proclamation was designed to clear up confusion. A spokesman said there has been no set procedure in the past and that as a result there has been a hodgepodge of conflicting regulations.

When Chief Justice Fred Vinson died last September, Eisenhower ordered the flag be flown at half staff for 30 days. In his proclamation today he stipulates that hereafter the flag will be flown at half staff for 10 days when a chief justice dies.

The proclamation provides for flying the flag at half staff:

1. For 30 days from the day of death in the case of the president or a former president.

2. For 10 days in the case of the death of the vice presient, the chief justice or a retired chief justice, or the speaker of the House of Representatives.

3. From the day of death until interment for an associate justice of the Supreme Court, a member of the Cabinet, a former vice president, the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, a U.S. senator, a member of the House, a territorial delegate, the resident commissioner from the commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or the governor of a state or territory.

In the event of the death of other officials, former officials or foreign dignitaries, the flag would be displayed at half staff in accordance with such orders or instructions as may be issued by or at the direction of the president, or "in accordance with recognized customs or practices not inconsistent with law."

Local Home Economics Department Wins Praise

Harding High's home economics department was one of 26 high school departments in the United State singled out for modernizing their programs by Forecast, home economics magazine.

In the March, 1954 issue, Harding's department was praised as being equipped to keep up with the improved standards of living of families today.

The article called Harding's three - division department "fully equipped to train girls in all phases of up-to-date living, including clothing, food preparation, and homemaking." Pictures of the foods laboratory and the clothing room were included.

Youth Bored With TV Gets Into Trouble at Zoo

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Police asked 14-year-old Michael Quick what prompted him to free a flock of crows, hawks and pigeons from the zoo by opening their cages with wire cutters.

"I got bored looking at television at home," the lad answered yesterday.

The case awaits a probation officer's recommendation.

Wrecked Car Was His, Tow Truck Driver Finds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Harry H. Kampf, a tow-truck driver, cast an expert's glance at the smashed Cadillac and agreed with police: "Yep, it's a bad one, all right."

Then he took another look at the wreck he was supposed to tow away.

"Hey," he exclaimed, "that's my car."

Sure enough, stolen and wrecked before he even missed it.

Garden Notes

Loosen mulch gradually. Don't remove until end of the month.

Spraying can be done until March 15th. Be sure the temperature is over 40 degrees on a dull, still day. Miscible oil is the best all-purpose spray.

Dust roses, phlox, delphinium and peonies with Bordeaux mixture to prevent mildew. Do this as soon as shoots appear.

Don't roll your lawn with a heavy roller. Heavy rolling while ground is wet compacts the earth so that clay soil will crack later in the dry weather. Roll lightly the clumps of heaved sod but wait until a dry spell after the frost is definitely out of the ground.

Don't sprinkle your grass with lime. It encourages weeds. Get after the weeds early. Dig out plantain and shallow rooted weeds. Don't dig out dandelions this only causes them to multiply. Use a spray. Spray all creeping weeds.

Calvary Members To Be Recognized At Union Services

Tonight at the union EUB Gospel Truth Crusade service at Oakland Church will be Church Night for members of Calvary Church and their guests. The special meetings are in the second week and will continue through Sunday with Rev. Morton Dorsey of Chillicothe as preacher and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bierce of Logansport, Ind., as music evangelists. The services are being held under auspices of the five Evangelical United Brethren Churches of the community.

Mr. Bierce is the special soloist for the services, accompanied by his wife, and he has a number of his recordings available at the services. He and Rev. Dorsey will be heard Friday at 8:15 a.m. on the radio broadcast of Morning Meditations over Station WMRN.

Rev. Dorsey continued last night his message from Sunday night using verses from the first chapter of Luke for his text. He said, "We can serve the Lord without fear. We have freedom only when we are in tune with Him. True happiness comes in being absorbed into something great. Whether we be in full time Christian service or have our own business as the laity of the church we cannot please people without conflict. Our purpose must be to serve God without fear, in holiness and in righteousness."

Modern Daniel Boone Forced To Use Autos

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Daniel Boone came back to Kentucky recently but he had to use an automobile and road map to follow the wilderness trail of pioneer days.

Daniel Boone, an attorney from Nashville, Tenn., realized an ambition of many years when he tried to follow the path blazed by his famous great - great - great-grandfather. He found it impossible to follow the original Boone trail, since portions of it can only be reached by foot and the present Daniel Boone was handicapped by an old back injury.

Boone spent much of his time visiting every monument and marker along the trail commemorating his ancestor. He got an unexpected reaction when he signed the register at the Boone Tavern in Berea.

"What's the joke" a clerk asked.

Martha Jane Sprague

Miss Sprague's engagement to James F. Parker is being announced. Details in the Social Notebook.

Police, Patrol List 6 Mishaps

Three minor traffic accidents on city streets during the last 24 hours were reported today by Marion police. State highway patrolmen also reported three accidents.

A parked car owned by Paul M. Darst of 403½ Silver St. was struck by a car driven by Raymond F. Crowder, 52, of 722 N. State St. at Oak and Owens Sts. at 1:16 p.m. Monday.

Cars driven by Oliver E. Rowland, 49, of 396 W. Center St. and Cora Belle Bill, 39, of 389 Lee St. collided at the intersection of Bartram Ave. and the first alley north of Silver St. at 12:04 p.m. Monday.

A taxicab driven by Fay H. Kuhn, 29, of 159½ N. Main St. and Robert Olmstead, 17, of 535 Lee St. collided at Silver and Niles Sts. at 11:30 a.m. Monday.

Injuries suffered by Marjorie A. Umbaugh of 601 Summit St. in an accident Saturday night at Mt. Vernon Ave. and S. Greenwood St. today were reported more serious than first thought. Mrs. H. E. Umbaugh said her daughter suffered a fractured collar bone. Police previously reported both Marjorie and the driver of the car, Jerry Dale Lee, 17, of 526 Uncapher Ave. had suffered only bumps.

3 Accidents in County

Three traffic accidents reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol resulted in minor injuries to one person and the arrest of two drivers.

At 4:45 p.m. yesterday, a car driven by Henry L. Wenner, 61, of Upper Sandusky, collided with a state road grader at work clearing Route 23, about two miles north of Marion. The road grader was driven by Alvin L. McClain, 56, of Ashley. Patrol officers reported Wenner suffered a bruised chest and abrasions of both knees, but was not treated. The car was extensively damaged, while the road grader had only a punctured tire. Wenner was given a citation for driving left of center of the roadway.

In a second accident at 1:15 a.m. yesterday, three-tenths of a mile west of Marion on Route 95, a car driven by Robert L. Stanley, 42, of near Richwood, collided with a truck driven by Leroy Stump, 46, of Marysville. State patrolmen reported moderate damage to both vehicles. Stanley was given a citation for driving left of center.

Another mishap occurred at 5:30 a.m. today when a car driven by Robert N. O'Brien, 24, 350 Park St., ran off the road and turned over on Route 23, just south of Waldo. According to the highway patrol, O'Brien was unhurt. His car was moderately damaged.

Fire in River

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Hundreds of Albuquerqueans were told last night not to worry when they called radio stations and newspapers to inquire about dense clouds of smoke over the city.

It's only a big brush fire in the river, they were told.

And it was just that—a fire in the river bed of the almost dry Rio Grande.

Church Activities

Harmony Circle of the Prospect Methodist Church WSCS met with Mrs. Evelyn Kyle recently. Devotions from the worship booklet, "The Master's Call to Service," were by Mrs. Kyle. Roll call was answered with thoughts about Abraham Lincoln. Mrs. Eva Northup, program chairman, gave the lesson, "The Methodist Church Helping the Rural Negro."

The Missionary Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Prospect met at the parsonage Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Paul E. Dobberstein as hostess. Mrs. Clarence Wilcox had devotions and the topic was presented by Mrs. Paul Gast on, "This Is the Life—A Few Drops of Water." Rev. Dobberstein reviewed the Bible study.

An invitation was extended to the society to attend the World Day of Prayer, March 5, at Trinity Lutheran Church when Rev. Dobberstein will give the message. During the social hour, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Cecila Almendinger in serving refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Knickel and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Daugherty entertained the Builders Class of Prospect's Zion Reformed Church at the church. Games and contests were enjoyed during the social hour. The March meeting will be held at the church with Mrs. J. E. Bricker and Mrs. E. T. Hensel as co-hostesses.

—:—

Plans were made recently by Epworth Methodist Circle 5 for serving the luncheon at the general WSCS meeting at the church on March 11 and for a rummage sale that week. Mrs. Martha Gruber was hostess to the circle in her home on Merchant Ave. and served a dessert luncheon assisted by Mrs. Otto Eibling who presided for business following. Articles on the work of the church were given by Mrs. C. R. Clevenger, Miss Nellie Bain, Mrs. Harry Carman, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Bruno Rybicki, and Mrs. Gruber. The next meeting will be a potluck lunch with Mrs. Rybicki as hostess.

—:—

Mrs. Edgar Lightfoot, Mrs. Blanche Little and Mrs. Mae Blazer were hostesses for the February meeting of the Golden Hour Circle held in the LaRue Methodist Church annex. Following the forenoon work session a covered dish dinner was served at noon.

Prayer led by Mrs. Lula Folk opened the afternoon meeting and Mrs. George Raub was in charge of the worship service which included responsive readings.

During the business meeting, the World Day of Prayer observance was announced for March 5 in the Methodist Church for all women of the community. A district meeting at Ada was announced for March 24. The nominating committee was named and includes Mrs. J. A. Ingle, Mrs. Ray Spracklin and Mrs. Benton Denman. A missionary gift from Mrs. Flora Kramp was presented, in memory of her mother, Mrs. W. P. LaRue who was a member of the group.

Members responded to roll call with verses from Isaiah and the program followed on the theme, "Negroes and the Rural Church." A paper on "Introduction of Negroes in the Church," was given by Mrs. Little. A skit, "Prelude to Action," on alcoholic education, was given by Mrs. Spracklin and Mrs. Vernon Lauer. A reading, "Toward Thy Kingdom's Goal," was by Mrs. Ivah Owen.

When the Grand Prairie Baptist Church Watch Us Grow Class met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Rice in Harpster, colored slide pictures on Colombia and Ecuador were shown by Robert Martin of Marion. Plans for future activities included a project of men in the class conducting visitation into the homes of the community, and for presentation of a play at the Easter morning service under direction of Mrs. Rice.

Cleveland Gets 15 Inches

Northern Ohio Digs Out of Deep Snow

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fagged road road crews started knocking off work today—but schools remained closed over most of northern Ohio—as the state's worst snow storm since the "big one" of 1950 neared an end.

Weathermen measured 15 inches of snow in Greater Cleveland when the fall eased off into a series of flurries late last night.

Shoveling crews — remembering the 21.3-inch fall which smothered traffic here for 36 hours in November of 1950—dug in faster this time. Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze reported Cleveland crews started at 10 p. m., Sunday.

"We're ahead of it and we'll keep ahead of it," he added.

Die in Cleveland

Twenty - three Clevelanders and 40 other Ohioans lost their lives in the fall 3 years ago. This time 11 deaths in the Greater Cleveland area and one at Toledo were attributed to the snow.

Ohio 6 and 20, along Lake Erie, were closed yesterday west of Cleveland and there was heavy going over parts of U. S. 42 between Ashland and Medina, where highway patrolmen said at least 150 cars were stalled. Some passengers were marooned in farm homes and the state highway department advised other motorists today to stay home if possible.

The Cleveland Transit System, thankful it had ended its last street car run, kept most of its buses going—except on the route over Chestnut Hill in suburban Parma. Buses were slowed yesterday but they got through drifts, while many street cars were stopped last time.

Downtown stores and industries suffered from absenteeism.

Plants To Reopen

Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. plants in Cleveland arranged to reopen today. But yesterday less than 10 per cent of Ford's engine plant crew showed for work and GM units were also crimped.

Only 150 of a 1,000-man crew arrived at the Fisher body division Euclid plant, only an eighth of a 4,000 workers at the Cadillac tank units, and only a third of the first shift at the Chevrolet - Cleveland works.

Greater Clevelanders who collapsed and died after shoveling snow were John Vargo, 62; Edward J. Suchy, 43, Thomas Maesey, 68; Mrs. Frances Hannan, 46; Eugene Lankart, 68, and Fred Miller, 79.

Three men—Dale W. Teeters, 49, Jacob Majerczak, 62, and Grady A. Barnett, 35 — died after walking through drifts here.

Slips on Rail Car

Benedict Farris, 40, of Parma, slipped on an icy railroad car ladder and was killed under a moving train on Nickel Plate tracks.

Vivian Frangos, 13, was killed in a two-car collision on icy Parma pavements.

Buses from Cleveland to Elyria, Wooster, Vermilion and other western points were canceled during the storm and one large transportation firm said not one of its 60 trucks reached Cleveland.

Still closed today were Cleveland's four colleges and all other schools in Cuyahoga County.

Public schools as far south as Mansfield and other Richland County points were closed yesterday and most of the rural ones stayed shut today.

Others closing were at Norwalk, where there were 14 inches of snow; Seneca County, 7; Canton, 10; Oberlin; 16; Akron, 14.

REA Approves Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rural Electrification Administration has approved a three million dollar loan to the Willard Light & Power Co. of Canal Winchester, Ohio.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) announcing this yesterday, said the money would be used to build district lines to rural consumers in Pickaway, Franklin and Fairfield counties.

The international Astronomical Union at Cincinnati, has listed more than 1,500 asteroids.

Foreboding

By George Sokolsky

A new device has been added to international diplomacy, namely, world government by a chain of conferences outside the United Nations. To date, not a single decisive international question has been decided by the United Nations, unless one assumes that such a matter as the establishment of Israel is decisive.

SOKOLSKY

The Geneva Conference is one of these outside arrangements called to solve both the Korean and Indochinese affairs and undoubtedly to determine the relations between Red China and the United States.

The reported agreement between the United States and Soviet Russia that the subject of a seat for Red China will not be discussed at Geneva is meaningless. The Russians were not to bring the subject up at Berlin but they did.

As a matter of fact, propaganda is now going the rounds in this country to soften up the American people to recognize Red China de facto and to agree to a seat for Red China in the United Nations.

THE SAME big names are being used as have for years been used to convince Americans to do the wrong things which have proved so costly not only in prestige and wealth but in the lives of our sons.

The argument runs:

1. Some say: Let us be practical and realistic. Red China is there. So we have to deal with them.

(The United States did not recognize Soviet Russia from 1917 to 1933. Both countries survived.)

2. Some say: I hate Red China for her barbarous treatment of our troops, but we cannot settle anything in Asia without Red China. So let us recognize Red China.

(It has been experience in every conference since Teheran in 1943 that when a concession is made to the Saviet Universal State, a new situation develops which requires further concessions.

Could Mr. Dulles or anyone else guarantee that if the Korean and Indochinese issues were resolved, that a Burmese, an Indonesian, or an Indian situation would not immediately be developed?)

3. SOME SAY: If we recognize Red China and give her a seat in the United Nations, a split will develop between Red China and Soviet Russia and the United States can wean Red China away from Soviet Russia.

(The Chinese Communist movement was organized in 1920 at the Baku Congress of Nations of the Orient. Most of its leaders are Russian trained and are firm adherents to Marxism. They have been loyal to the Kremlin, taking strict orders from it since 1923 when Michael Borodin was sent to China to reorganize the revolution on a Marxist basis. There is not a scintilla of evidence that any change in attitude has taken place. In fact, the writings and speeches of Mao Tze-tung and Chou En-lai confirm the loyalty of Red China to the Kremlin. Those who believe a schism possible do not understand the nature of the Soviet Universal State in its current manifestations.)

THE LINE for recognition will be accented during the next month to pave the way for whatever decision comes out of the Geneva Conference.

This does not mean that John Foster Dulles favors the recognition of Red China or the seating of that country in the United Nations. It does mean that, for all practical purposes, the United States has become isolated. Dean Acheson kept unwilling nations to a plausible line by a bribery that cost this country roughly 6 million dollars a year. John Foster Dulles cannot continue these subventions because the money is not available.

He maintained a front with Great Britain and France at Berlin by making the concession of agreeing to the Geneva Conference. He cannot know, and nobody can know, what combination of countries he will encounter at Geneva, what forces of neutralism, of open or convert enmity he may face among our former friends who want to make up their lost American subventions by an East-West trade that can develop into Russian subventions.

Out diplomatic advantages have deteriorated since our failure in Korea more than the American people have been permitted to know. Dulles knows and his anxities must be great indeed.

Once Red China wins a seat in the United Nations, the Soviet Universal State will have won its second greatest victory. (The first great victory was when George Marshall, by an unfortunate truce maneuver, opened the way for the conquest of China by Russia.)

EVERY 4.3 MINUTES an American is murdered or seriously assaulted, says FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover.

Improvements Suggested

Fair Problems Discussed By Board, Farm Group

Ways and means of improving the Marion County Fair were discussed for three hours last night at a special session of the fair board at 8 p.m. in the Coliseum.

The purpose of the meeting was simply discussion, and no motions were made, votes taken or minutes kept. What positive fruit the discussion will bear will be determined in future meetings of the fair board.

THE SESSION had been requested by the county agriculture extension agents as a sounding-board for suggestions made in a meeting of 4-H leaders, agricultural teachers and farmers, Feb. 19. At this meeting various ideas for improving the fair had been discussed. These ideas were presented to the fair board last night by Archie Bishop, Ed Parrott, James Johnson and Loren Fulton.

The members of this committee last night said that they were not there to criticize or fight with the fair board. They said they did not know the answers to the various problems relative to making a better fair, but that a free and open discussion of these problems by both groups might help solve them.

The resultant discussion brought out these problems:

1. How can the Coliseum best be used this year?

2. Where can 4-H displays, the merchants' show, and cattle be housed?

3. Should state agricultural engineers be invited in to aid the fair board in developing a long-range plan?

4. How can daytime attendance be increased?

5. In what way can the Coliseum be made the center of the fair?

6. How can public relations be improved so that greater public support of the fair can be achieved?

—:—

IN DISCUSSING these problems several methods of solution were discussed. The leading ideas were these:

1. The best use of the Coliseum seemed to be as a showing arena for livestock, not for housing them, but for judging them.

2. Three buildings are immediately needed; a 4-H building, a merchants building and livestock barns. Each is needed so badly that it is impossible to decide which is required the most. The fair board, however has funds to build only one this year.

3. Call in state agriculture engineers to advise on which building is needed the most and where the best location for it would be.

4. On the recommendations of these engineers, draw up a long-range building program, attempt to educate the people of the need for the improvements, and try for the eventual passage of a small tax levy to finance the project.

5. Move fair activities closer to the Coliseum so as to make it more of a center of fair activities.

6. As funds permit, make improvements in existing buildings, lighting and loudspeaker systems so as to make the fair more attractive to the public.

ALTHOUGH MOST of the discussion was given to the question of which of the three buildings is needed most, a wide range of fair problems were touched upon. They included such things as how to alleviate dust and cattle odors, how to improve cleanliness, encourage farm implement dealers to show at the fair again this year, what the proper dimensions of a 4-H building should be, and where to park cars.

The meeting was attended by 14 members of the fair board, Luther Mitchell and Howard McCurdy of the board of county commissioners, three agriculture extension agents, the citizens committee and several interested residents.

Civil War Ship Sighted As Drought Drops River

HIMMSWICK, Mo. (UP) — A drought and resultant drop in the Mississippi River combined to bring a Civil War ship into view here once more.

About 1862 the vessel, one of this country's first armored naval craft, was caught in an ice gorge and sank. Part of it has been visible occasionally in the past when the river has been low, but now it is almost completely exposed.

The boat, believed to be a Union stern-wheeler named the Windsor, was armored with railroad rails and apparently designed for ramming Confederate vessels. Its prow was reinforced with a solid mass of oak and walnut ties, most of which still remain in position in the rotting hull.

White House Curtain

By Victor Riesel

One of the most influential men of our nation left a private parley with Dwight Eisenhower fully convinced that some of the most vital information about the security and well-being of our nation is not finding its way to the President.

RIESEL

That was the impression left with AFL chief George Meany, who spent some time with Ike last Wednesday. The labor leader went in to talk to the President about three specific issues—one of which involved the thousands of Mexican "wetbacks" slipping through the Rio Grande's shallow waters and working their way as far north as Chicago and Detroit. So many of these illegal Mexicanos reached Chicago two years ago that a special airlift had to be launched to get them back home.

As important as the rising replacement by Mexicans of many AFL workers, is the startling disclosure by the Immigration and Naturalization Service that on some days as many as 100 Latin-American Communists from as far south as Guatemala, sneak through disguised as "wetbacks."

Among other complaints, Mr. Meany told the President that hundreds of thousands of West Coast workers were going jobless because high Navy officials were favoring friends in the east with repair contracts.

The Navy, acting under a law which permits contracts to be let out on the basis of low bids and "other factors", has almost ignored the Pacific shipyards where some 500,000 men worked at the peak of our needs. Today, only some 15,000 shipyard workers have jobs there while eastern yards are jammed. Meany wants more contracts pushed west.

President Eisenhower was keenly interested—and said he would investigate immediately.

Who in the White House is iron curtaining Ike?

SOME OF Jimmy Petrillo's musical lieutenants are creating anything but harmony inside labor. With their own membership in the American Federation of Musicians falling off, these aides are reaching for chorus girls, hula-hula dancers, puppeteers, magicians, and even acrobats—none of whom so much as whistle a tune in their acts.

Some Petrillo locals have set up "auxiliaries". Initiation fee is $10. Some time ago, one local offered a cut rate for chorus girls. The entertainers, who are members of another AFL union, the American Guild of Variety Artists, are in an uproar, because the musicians are saying they won't play in some areas unless the performers join the music makers' union.

I don't report this just to record one of Petrillo's piquancies. Here is a weird warping of civil liberties. For the musicians' locals are saying that they have the right to choose the people or the performers for whom they will play.

Suppose this theory spreads? Shall a movie projectionist, for example, refuse to run a film he doesn't like? Or a stage hand refuse to set up mikes for a speaker of a political party with which he disagrees?

MANY OF THE officials whom ex-President Truman trusted betrayed him and exploited his sense of political loyalty. He stuck by them because that was his credo—just as he still thinks highly of one unofficial adviser who had access to the White House day or night.

This is the man I have referred to as the mysterious Mr. X, friend of at least one renegade now broadcasting against us over the Prague Cominform radio.

I respectfully submit to Mr. Truman that he will be shocked to learn that this Mr. X worked closely with Nicolai Lenin in rebuilding Russia and the Russian army specifically.

If Mr. Truman wants the details of this collaboration, he should pick up an interesting booklet for his new library. It's called "report to the Board of Directors and Stockholders on Conditions in Soviet Russia and Contracts," issued in 1923 by the Russian-American Industrial Corp.

Mr. Truman will see his friend's name listed along with certain labor people on the board of directors.

The booklet, describing Lenin and Stalin's government, states: "Those in power today are, insofar as can be discerned, the most vital if not the only organized force in Russian life capable of regenerating the country."

They certainly did. Today, with the help of some of the men on that board, they regenerated to the point of controlling one-third of the earth and 800,000,000 people.

THE WHITE HOUSE is now insisting that Republicans in Congress pass a labor law which includes giving union members the right to vote against going out on strikes. Previously, the White House staff was willing to drop the idea. Recent polls indicate that the proposition is popular, especially in such industrial areas as Pittsburgh. There, rank-and-file union members who were polled favored such a strike vote by five to one.

President Eisenhower is preparing to make some modifications on his labor law proposals—and they will emphasize what he believes to be the "rights of individual employes."

Meanwhile, the Republican labor braintrusters are toying with the idea of giving union members the right to petition for a strike vote instead of making one mandatory. If enough members of a union ask for such a vote before hitting the picket lines, then let them have it, says this proposal.

Shrove Tuesday

By Ed Creagh

(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON

Eat, drink and be merry today. It's Shrove Tuesday, and Lent lasts a long time!

Shrove Tuesday? It's little noticed in most parts of these United States, though there's Mardi Gras in New Orleans and the golden brown potato doughnuts, or fastnachts, sugar the teeth and gladden the spirit in Reading, Pa.

And, after all, aren't the rest of us a pretty long-faced lot to be passing up a celebration which heartier folk have been enjoying since the Middle Ages.

SHROVE TUESDAY, the day before Ash Wednesday, has long been a time to store up warm memories—to say nothing of calories—for the Lenten days to come.

In England, where it used to be called "Pancake Tuesday," it was a day of general merrymaking—the Kentucky Derby day, so to speak, of cock fighting among other pastimes. Church bells summoned one and all not to worship but to wining and dining, and there was even a song about it:

"But hark, I hear the pancake bell
"And fritters make a gallant smell;
"The cooks are baking, frying, boiling,
"Stewing, mincing, cutting, broiling,
"Carving, gormandizing, roasting,
"Carbonading, cracking, slashing, toasting."

I DON'T KNOW who made up that happy catalogue of cooking noises but he could name his own salary as a writer of television commercials today.

France still makes much of Shrove Tuesday, and in fact invented the name "Mardi Gras" or "Fat Tuesday" for the high jinks. Why "Fat Tuesday"? Because, unless the dictionary in front of me is wrong, it was and still is in some parts of northern France the custom to parade a fat ox ceremoniously through the streets.

(It also was the custom to use up on Shrove Tuesday the fats which couldn't be eaten during Lent, and that may be why they called it "Fat Tuesday," but you're not going to get me into any argument.)

In the south of France, of course, all sorts of revelry burst out at this time of year—which does not distress the tourist industry in the least. In Nice, on the Riviera today, a huge king carnival is toted through the flower-decked streets, and pretty darkhaired girls pelt you with posies.

IN FINLAND some people believe there'll be no flax next summer if a woman spins on Shrove Tuesday. In Belgium some say, if you eat cabbage on Shrove Tuesday the catepillars won't bother your growing cabbages.

Nobody, I suppose, has it quite so good as the kids of Denmark, where for some dark Danish reason Shrove Tuesday is observed on Monday. Anyhow the kids are let out of school and go around beating on their elders with brightly decorated "Lenten birches," all the time shouting "Give buns!" whereupon the elders massage their bruises and dole out "fastelavnsboller," or Shrovetide buns. These are said to be delicious and this is every blessed thing I know about Shrove Tuesday except that it still sounds like a good idea.
